Hallows Defeats Honeck For Court by 12,000 Votes

Populous Southeastern Counties Assure Victory to Incumbent

Milwaukee — P — A fiery, white haired attorney with a long and distinguished career in the principles and practice of law won a full 10-year term on the Wisconsin Supreme court in Tuesday's election.

E. Harold Hallows, named to the high court post a year ago and making his first bid for elective office, defeated former Atty. Gen. Stewart G. Honeck.

The 54-year-old Wauwatosa attorney, a national authority on judicial reform and the administration of justice, turned his 12,000-vote victory over draw support from independent voters, from independent Republicans, while party Republicans stayed with Honeck.

The 52-year-old Honeck served 13 years under Republican administrations—11 as deputy attorney general under Thomson and one term as Thomson's successor—before he was beaten in the Democratic sweep last November.

A breakdown of Tuesday's balloting, which carried fewer than 600,000 of the state's 2,300,000 eligible voters to the polls, showed that Honeck carried 39 counties, including the traditional GOP strongholds.

Hallows carried 32, and fashioned his victory in the populous southeastern counties.

Byrnes Rejects Idea Of Politics on Port

Blames North Central Airlines for Blocking Air Service to Fox Cities

Congressman John W. Byrnes today rejected any suggestion that he apply political pressure on the civil aeronautics board to assure early air service to Outagamie county airport and firmly laid the blame for delay on North Central Airlines.

His remarks came in a letter to Gordon A. Banoiz, who on March 24 wrote Byrnes there is a feeling in Appleton that Byrnes has not been helping to obtain air service at the port.

"While your letter did not mention any specific failure on my part, nor make any suggestion what I should do," Byrnes said, "I read in it the context of the Post-Crescent story of March 21 which quotes you at length. The suggestion in the story is that I apply political pressure to the civil aeronautics board.

"I reject this suggestion," Byrnes says, "not only for its imprudence, but for the harm it would do Appleton. The CAB is an independent agency of the United States government and I can think of no better way to influence Appleton's other than to attempt to apply political pressure upon its members. The implication that present CAB members would base their decisions on 'political pressure' rather than the facts is repugnant to me. If I thought this was the case, I would protest more vehemently and I am confident you and others in Appleton would be equally incensed."

Byrnes says he wants to do "anything proper to assist Appleton to obtain air service" and that "is abundantly clear from the record."

Already Rejected Byrnes says the airline is using Appleton to blame the CAB for lack of service at the county port, a lack which is directly attributable to its own dilatory tactics.

North Central, at hearings before the CAB, said it was ready to serve on any route designated by the CAB. Byrnes points out, and "Yet, all of its actions since have been aimed at delaying or circumventing the decision to provide service to Appleton."

The airline's petition for reconsideration of the CAB order to serve Appleton on a Minneapolis-Eau Claire-Marshfield-Milwaukee route says it wants to serve Appleton instead on a route

Ike Assailed At Labor Rally In Washington

Unions Seek More Public Works, Aid To Unemployed

Washington — P — Five thousand men and women cheered attacks on the Eisenhower administration's economic policies at a rally staged by organized labor today to bid for more government jobless aid and job-making moves.

The banner-waving throng, many of them workers without jobs, gave applause too for a prediction from Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell of a multi-million man job improvement by October.

Mitchell said if his forecast fails to come about he'll eat his own hat on the labor department front steps.

But there was louder clapping and shouts when Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers union, followed Mitchell and said:

"We like Jim Mitchell—but the unemployed can't stand on pious platitudes and promises."

Predicts More Jobs Mitchell specifically predicted the present 64 million employed total will increase to 67 million by October, a three million job increase. He said the present idle total of 4,362,000 will shrink by October to three million or less.

The rally was held in the national guard armory, biggest hall in the capital, with the slogan, "Wake up, Washington."

Some banners, as well as some remarks, were aimed directly at President Eisenhower. There were banners depicting a teed-up golf ball and saying, "On to Augusta" where Eisenhower is on a golfing vacation.

Reuther, after paying tribute to Mitchell, told the rally:

"The tragedy is that the Eisenhower administration policies are not formed by Jim Mitchell but by Mr. George Humphrey on the quail hunts in Georgia."

One of Eisenhower's annual outings is a quail-hunting trip to former Sec. of the Treasury Humphrey's farm at Thomasville, Ga.

300 Men Hit by Food Poisoning

Washington — P — About 300 Ohio union members were reported stricken with food poisoning while en route here for today's AFL-CIO unemployment conference.

A Lima, Ohio, union official estimated about half the 600-man delegation aboard a Toledo-Washington train became ill after eating turkey for dinner in a dining car last night.

Mark Catlin One of Six New Outagamie Board Members

20-Year Veteran, Fred Krause, Upset by Novice on South Side

Six new supervisors, including Mark Catlin, former speaker of the state assembly, will join the Outagamie county board at its organizational meeting April 21. Three men defeated the incumbents and three replaced men who did not run.

Most surprising, probably, was the defeat of 20-year veteran Supt. Fred Krause in Appleton's Thirteenth ward by newcomer John G. Dietz.

296 to 274. Krause, chairman of the important highway committee and member of the county safety committee, is retired. Dietz is secretary and treasurer of Appleton Appliance company and is a novice in politics.

Catlin Wins In Appleton's Seventh ward, where incumbent Fred Krause did not run, Catlin, defeated in his bid for the assembly last year, decisively defeated Appleton real estate man Joseph Engel by a 370 to 187 vote.

It was Engel's first try for office, although he led the fight against fluoridation of the city's water supply two years ago. It was Catlin's first successful try for office since he was defeated after 14 years in the assembly, interrupted only once by defeat.

Chicago — P — Mayor Richard J. Daley romped to an easy and predicted victory in yesterday's municipal election.

Strengthening the stranglehold the Democrats have held on city hall for 28 years.

It was no contest in the mayoral race, Daley smothered his Republican opponent, Timothy Sheehan, in his successful bid for reelection as he led his Democratic ticket in the sweep.

Daley, in winning a second four-year term, pulled a near record vote majority for a mayoral election. He won by more than 465,000 votes, setting 71.36 per cent of the total ballot and outdistancing Sheehan by about 2 to 1.

Daley, a veteran in politics and backed by one of the country's most powerful Democratic organizations, made the best showing in a mayoral election since 1935. In that ballot, teen Mayor Edward J. Kelly and his Democratic ticket got 75.8 per cent of the total vote.

Sheehan, no novice in the political field after four terms in congress, ran true to pre-election forecasts. He never came close to challenge the 56-year-old mayor. Daley took the lead at the outset and widened it through the counting of nearly 1,000,000 ballots in the city's 3,821 precincts.

The final official count showed Daley 777,095, Sheehan 312,182.

The total vote of 1,089,278 was one of the largest in nearly 25 years. That was about 85 per cent of the city's 1,241,594 registered voters, which also bore out pre-election predictions.

Youth Receives Life Sentence for Murder Philadelphia — P — A second teenage boy has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the fatal beating of a Korean graduate student.

Another previously has been sentenced to death and a fourth to 10-20 years in prison. Seven await trial.

Douglas Clark, 16, was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced yesterday by three judges who heard testimony to fix the degree of guilt and the penalty.

Clark had pleaded guilty Monday to a general charge of murder in the fatal beating of In-Ho Oh, 26, a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

Oh went out to mail a letter last April 25 and was attacked on the street by a Negro gang seeking money, police have testified. The gang got virtually nothing.

SEATO Council Outlines Goals For Economy

Orderly Social Progress Vital, Ministers Say

BY GORDON TAIT

Wellington, New Zealand — P — The SEATO council of ministers opened its fifth meeting today with emphasis on improving economic conditions in Southeast Asia to combat communism.

Several speakers stressed that military strength alone was not enough to protect the area from the red menace.

Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand, elected to preside over the session, described hunger and poverty as the greatest threats to the security of the members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and their neighbors.

"Conditions of security can be of lasting value only if they are accompanied by orderly economic and social progress," he said.

Reason for Peace Sec. Gen. Pote Sarasin gave the 8-nation alliance a confident report and said SEATO has "given ample notice that any aggression or use of force will be met with equal determination."

"I believe," he said, "that this clear voice has been largely responsible for the fact that the whole area has been able to enjoy peace."

Members of the alliance are the United States, Britain, France, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, Australia and New Zealand.

Nelson to Address Legislature Thursday Madison — P — The executive office said today that Gov. Gaylord Nelson will address a joint session of the legislature Thursday and outline his pay-as-you-go income tax collection program.

A measure calling for a withholding plan has been introduced in the assembly at the governor's request and is awaiting a public hearing before the legislature's joint finance committee.

Head of Pope's Guard and His Assailant Shot Vatican City — P — The commander of the pope's Swiss guards, Col. Robert Nulisti, was shot and wounded today by a disgruntled former guardsman. The ex-guardsman, Adolf Rucker, was wounded when the commander sought to disarm him.

"An ex-Swiss guard fired two pistol shots at the commander of the corps, wounding him, but not seriously," the guards headquarters announced.

The ex-Swiss guard had insisted on being re-enlisted into service after having been expelled last year because of epileptic symptoms caused by a cranial trauma.

There were varying accounts as to whether the former guardsman shot himself or was wounded accidentally in a scuffle.

Won't Ease Attitude for Soviet Union

Bonn — P — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared to-night West German policy "will not be changed one iota for years to come" with his withdrawal to the less active role of president.

The presidency, he told a national audience, "is far more powerful than people generally believe."

Adenauer's agreement yesterday to drop the chancellorship to seek the presidency, heretofore a post largely of prestige and protocol, caused repercussions not only in world politics but also in German capitals. East-west negotiations on Berlin and Germany are coming up this spring and summer.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard is considered as the most likely successor to the chancellorship.

Adenauer has been in the forefront of a hard policy of no bargaining without Soviet concessions, a policy that has run counter to British Prime Minister Macmillan's advocacy of greater flexibility.

Long Term Policy The 83-year-old Adenauer said his decision was designed to secure the continuity of our policies for years to come.

This was Adenauer's first personal explanation for his sudden and surprising decision to run for president next July and quit the chancellery next September—as appears certain—he is elected.

He devoted only the last two minutes of his 10-minute address to his own future.

Most of the speech was concerned with foreign affairs and particularly the worsening of relations between Britain and West Germany.

Adenauer said that the fate of Britain and the fate of Germany "are inseparable."

He blamed the chilly relations largely on anti-German feelings lingering in Britain as a result of World War II. He pledged to do all he could to Wisconsin Rapids — P — Two children, ages 12 and 13, were wanted, preliminary hearing at its arraignment to appear on a charge of assault and battery.

Police said the children, who are 12 and 13, were wanted for the assault and battery on a woman and child.

Oklahoma Voters Back Repeal of Prohibition

BY JIM MOORE Oklahoma City — P — Oklahoma voters yesterday struck prohibition from their constitution.

When all but 13 of the state's 77 counties carried 395,242 to 312,574.

The state still isn't off the wagon. Legal liquor is at least two months away.

A constitutional amendment submitted privately to voters for approval was approved in a record-breaking special election called at the urging of Gov. J. Howard Edmondson.

Edmondson campaigned for governor with a promise to present the repeal issue to the people. He consistently declined to take a public stand for or against prohibition.

After results were in, Edmondson called on state residents to use "good judgment and common sense in the days ahead."

The legislature must repeal anti-liquor laws before liquor can be sold legally. This probably will take 60 to 90 days.

When it occurs, Oklahoma will emerge from 51 years of prohibition. Mississippi will be the only dry state left in the Union.

The head of the United States Dry association, the Rev. Joseph T. Shaddock of Oklahoma City, said the anti-repeal vote "registered a clear witness to a righteous majority in the state who were fully alert to the dangers of the alcohol habit."

He also urged the public "to avoid hilarity and the excesses which could easily flow from wrong evaluation of what has actually been done. A picnic has not been noted."

Failure of a county option proposal yesterday means the entire state will go wet, although liquor stores will be limited to towns of 200 and larger.

Arabs Ask Iraq to Conform to Policy

League Nations Form Committee To Attempt to Bring Kassem's Government Back Into the Fold

Beirut, Lebanon — Six of the 10 Arab league nations have called on Iraq's communist-influenced government to adhere to the league's policy of no non-Arab alliances. They set up a committee to try to bring the Baghdad government back into line.

The action was seen as partial victory for President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who has been feuding with Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem as a result of the growing ascendancy of Iraqi communists over pro-Nasser Arab nationalists in Iraq.

A communique closing a 6-day conference also contained a clause which, because of Nasser's recent charges of interference by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, could be interpreted as a swipe at international communism.

Joke on Men, Ladies Sweep City Election

Fulton, Kan. — The men of Fulton thought the Ladies Citizens ticket was the funniest joke in town — until yesterday.

That's when women won control of the town government.

The voters turned out in record numbers (Total Vote: 88) and elected 72-year-old Mabel Austin mayor. Three other Ladies Citizens' candidates were elected to the 5-member city council.

"They (the men) were joking and kidding us about it when we first started talking about running for office," Miss Austin said last night.

"We just wanted to show the men we could do it."

Miss Austin, a retired employee of the U. S. Internal Revenue service, defeated Mayor Howard Post, a grocer, 46 votes to 35.

Elected to the council were Mrs. Margaret Delano, who admits to being older than 70; Mrs. Esther Watson, 65, and Mrs. Lois Erie, 40.

Incumbent Councilman Bowen Ballah withstood the feminine challenge, and the fifth council seat also will be held by a man. Just who it will be isn't known yet. John Clayton and Arthur Johnson tied for the job with 36 votes, and the city mothers haven't decided how to resolve the issue.

Services Today For Murdered Milwaukee Boy

Milwaukee — Little Ben Wagner tried to pick up the pieces of everyday living today, the day of a funeral mass for the 6-year old boy stabbed to death by a kidnaper.

Meanwhile, scores of Milwaukee policemen continued to run down clues that might lead them to the killer of the boy whose bruised and stabbed body was found in a ditch 15 miles north of here Sunday.

Ben disappeared with a stranger in a station wagon Saturday night while going to a store to buy ice cream for his three sisters.

Police enlisted the help of school principals to determine whether any of their pupils might have been approached by the kidnaper. They also were trying to find someone who might have seen the boy, either going into a home or a restaurant with the man who abducted him. They believe that he ate with the kidnaper before he was killed.

Huge 2-Stage Rocket Fired

Air Force Tests Performance of 'A-Bomb' Cone

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — A huge 2-stage rocket was fired on the start of a 5,000 mile trip over the Atlantic today to test the performance of a nose cone that could carry the power-packed ICBM nuclear warheads of the future.

If the 80-foot launching rocket, called Thor-Able, did its job, a search unit of ships and C-54 planes planned to attempt to recover the elusive cone for the second time in 18 days.

It was expected that an announcement on the results of the shoot would be made later in the day.

Bright Puff
The missile blasted aloft at 1:35 a.m. (EST) and appeared to perform perfectly while in view. A bright puff after about 2 1/2 minutes indicated the second stage ignited on schedule.

The main mission was to gather an electronic report on how the cone withstood the blazing re-entry from space through the earth's atmosphere at speeds in excess of 10,000 miles per hour.

If all went well, the air force hoped to pluck the cone from the depths for study. The recovery fleet stood by near Ascension Island at the far end of the range to spot the cone as it flashed in like a tiny meteor.

It was the seventh launching in slightly less than a year in a highly classified project aimed at developing a shield for the nuclear warheads of the Titan and Minuteman intercontinental range ballistic missiles.

Superior Voters Elect New Mayor

Abandon City Manager Form; Cities Retain, Remove Officers

By the Associated Press

Voters at Superior elected their first mayor since 1942 in Tuesday's election. Lawrence Hagen defeated Thomas Thompson 7,422 to 5,025 in unofficial returns.

Superior recently abandoned its city manager form of government in favor of a mayor-council system. Hagen is a former Republican assemblyman.

At Osseo, Mayor David A. Carlson didn't want to be elected to another term and didn't file nomination papers. And no one else wanted the job either, so ballots had a blank spot. William Myers was elected with 105 write-in votes and Carlson was runner-up with 38.

Mayor Defeated
Roman Denissen defeated Otto Rachals in his bid for a third term as mayor of Green Bay. Unofficial results gave Denissen 10,966 votes and 5,599 for Rachals. Denissen was Rachals' opponent in the mayoral race two years ago.

Milo G. Knutson of La Crosse was reelected as mayor over Alderman Alf Hansen, 11,228 to 4,513.

Anthony Kontney was reelected to a third term as Antigo's mayor by defeating two opponents. Edwin Menking and Ernest Fondow. Kontney had 1,105 votes in the unofficial count to Menking's 768 and Fondow's 384.

Merlin Gray was elected mayor of Wisconsin Dells. He was unopposed.

Oshkosh Referendum
John Albright was elected as the new mayor of Oshkosh.

The best foreign play award went to "The Visit," in which Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne starred. It was adapted for Broadway by Maurice Valency from the original by Swiss playwright Friedrich Duerrenmatt.

"Le Plume de ma Tante," a revue playing on Broadway with an all-French cast, was voted the best musical.

Miss Hensberry's play opened March 11. She is working on another, which she says won't be ready for a year or two.

Abandon City Manager Form; Cities Retain, Remove Officers

By the Associated Press

Voters at Superior elected their first mayor since 1942 in Tuesday's election. Lawrence Hagen defeated Thomas Thompson 7,422 to 5,025 in unofficial returns.

Superior recently abandoned its city manager form of government in favor of a mayor-council system. Hagen is a former Republican assemblyman.

At Osseo, Mayor David A. Carlson didn't want to be elected to another term and didn't file nomination papers. And no one else wanted the job either, so ballots had a blank spot. William Myers was elected with 105 write-in votes and Carlson was runner-up with 38.

Mayor Defeated
Roman Denissen defeated Otto Rachals in his bid for a third term as mayor of Green Bay. Unofficial results gave Denissen 10,966 votes and 5,599 for Rachals. Denissen was Rachals' opponent in the mayoral race two years ago.

Milo G. Knutson of La Crosse was reelected as mayor over Alderman Alf Hansen, 11,228 to 4,513.

Anthony Kontney was reelected to a third term as Antigo's mayor by defeating two opponents. Edwin Menking and Ernest Fondow. Kontney had 1,105 votes in the unofficial count to Menking's 768 and Fondow's 384.

Merlin Gray was elected mayor of Wisconsin Dells. He was unopposed.

Oshkosh Referendum
John Albright was elected as the new mayor of Oshkosh.

The best foreign play award went to "The Visit," in which Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne starred. It was adapted for Broadway by Maurice Valency from the original by Swiss playwright Friedrich Duerrenmatt.

"Le Plume de ma Tante," a revue playing on Broadway with an all-French cast, was voted the best musical.

Miss Hensberry's play opened March 11. She is working on another, which she says won't be ready for a year or two.

Dirksen Won't Back Morse's Payroll Bill

Says Reports of Employee Salaries Should be Voluntary

BY JACK BELL

Washington — Senators who want to make their payrolls public got an invitation today from Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) to go right ahead.

But Dirksen, the senate Republican leader, stood anchored against the kind of forced publication that Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) proposed in the senate yesterday.

"There is no need for the kind of bill Sen. Morse is proposing," Dirksen said. "Any member who wants to make a statement about who is on his payroll and how much they are paid can do so anytime."

"Those who don't care to disclose the individual salaries that are paid to their employees ought not to be forced to do so."

Little Data
The house makes its payroll figures available, but public senate records list only the names of employees and the total amount assigned the senate for payment of them.

In the light of disclosures that some members of the house and senate have hired relatives, a few senators have said they would have no personal objection to making their payroll records available. But they have not done so, contending such action would violate senate custom.

Dirksen contends that to publish salaries would only stir up dissension among workers who felt they were not being paid as well as some colleagues in the same office.

Public Record
Morse said in an interview he believes the salaries of all appointees of senators should be aired publicly. He said these would include patronage jobs such as those provided for elevator operators, policemen and others, as well as the senator's office staff.

"I think all expenditures by the congress, by or for its committees and its members, should be public information," he told the senate. "The burden of proof for keeping secret any expenditure of public money is upon those who want to keep it secret."

Morse offered again a bill on which congress has taken no action in the past. It would require all government officials who receive $10,000 annual salaries to file yearly reports showing the amounts and sources of their income.

General Thinks Army Draftee Standards Wrong
Washington — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey thinks the army tends to look at a prospective draftee in chunks rather than appraising the man as a whole. He doesn't think it's good, either.

"The result," said Hershey, head of the selective service, "is that the psychiatrist kicks out one man because he thinks he is a little off."

"The psychologist thinks he is a little dumb."

"The foot man thinks he is flat-footed."

"Science has tended to get ways to measure what is wrong with us and hasn't gotten ways to measure what is right with us and what is right with us is what counts."

Budget Study
Hershey's testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee was released today. The subcommittee is studying next year's budget for the selective service system.

Mrs. Alyce Butler One of 4 Newcomers On Calumet Board

Chilton — The first woman in the history of Calumet county will claim a seat on the county board of supervisors as the result of Tuesday's election in the second precinct of Appleton's Ninth ward.

Mrs. Alyce Butler, chairman of the Appleton Citizens Committee for Animal Welfare, was the only candidate on the ballot to succeed John B. Stein, Jr., who did not stand for reelection.

The race became completely distasteful when Mrs. Arno Kuhn won two write-in votes.

Mrs. Butler represents one of four changes made on the Calumet board.

A. J. Burich won a write-in campaign in the city of Brillion to succeed Lynn Williams, who was not a candidate.

In the town of Charlesburg, Charles Pick defeated Henry

Harder, McLeod Win School Seats

Allan Sonkowsky, Malcolm Willis Defeated for Board of Education

Incumbent Earl W. Harder and A. Neil McLeod were the winners Tuesday in a fairly tight 4-man race for two posts on Appleton's board of education.

Harder and McLeod polled 3,662 and 2,637 votes, respectively, to defeat Ald. Allan W. Sonkowsky, 2,008, and Malcolm C. Willis, 1,578.

A total of 6,530 Appleton residents cast ballots. There are 19,281 registered voters in the city.

Town of Grand Chute voters who cast ballots for Appleton school board members gave their support to Harder and McLeod. In the First and Second precincts, Harder received 26 votes, McLeod, 15, Sonkowsky, 11, and Willis, 11.

Harder received the most votes in every ward except the Fifteenth. Sonkowsky's home ward, Sonkowsky carried that ward, 178 to 162.

Sonkowsky was second in four precincts while McLeod was second in 15 and tied in the Fourth ward with Sonkowsky.

Voting was the lightest for a spring election in the last four years. A total of 32.9 per cent of the voters went to the polls, compared to 61.6 per cent a year ago, 73.4 per cent in 1957, and 45.1 per cent in 1956.

Balloting was much higher than March 10, however, when 10.2 per cent of the registered residents cast their votes.

First Attempt
McLeod, 41, 820 E. Alton street, replaces former board member Franklin C. Jesse who did not seek reelection.

He is a native of Canada and was educated at the University of Saskatchewan. He holds master's and doctor's degrees from Cornell university and is an economist. He became a U.S. citizen in 1956. This was his first attempt at a public office.

Harder, 49, 1412 W. Packard street, has degrees from the University of Chicago. He was elected to the school board in 1938 to 52.

Second Attempt
Harder, 49, 1412 W. Packard street, has degrees from the University of Chicago. He was elected to the school board in 1938 to 52.

Treasurer Mrs. Viola Lehman, unopposed incumbent, received 181 votes. Edward J. Hurley, a newcomer, was elected assessor with 179 votes. Incumbent Clarence Nordner was not on the ballot but received three write-ins.

Other elected incumbents were Edward Ellenbecker, justice of the peace, 180 votes, and Louis Christenson, constable, 171.

Stewart Honeck outpolled Harold Hallows in the supreme court election, 112 to 74.

GOOD-BYE CORNS

The Fallacy of Disengagement

Many Americans and British and a fewer number of West Germans have been proposing various ideas of "disengagement" in the Berlin area.

In brief, disengagement in Germany means a separation of the two hostile forces so that the tensions may dissipate and the contrast, for the Reds at least, would no longer be quite so glaring. Ideally such disengagement is supposed to reduce the likelihood of war until tempers cool and the reasons for conflict have drifted away.

There are several plans for such disengagement. But the west would do well to remember that when the Russians speak of such plans they have a considerably different interpretation of the meaning of the word. As author Edward Hunter points out, when the Russians speak of peace they mean "a state of affairs under which there is no opposition to communism." And when they speak of disengagement they mean a continued separation of the Germanies or unity under Red domination and, in both cases, the elimination of western control and influence in Berlin.

To these ends the Russians have indicated a willingness to discuss the Rapacki Plan, suggested by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki. This would involve a denial of nuclear weapons to Poland; Czechoslovakia and both Germanies, a reduction of conventional forces by everybody in the controversial area, and some sort of inspection system, so far nebulous and vague. Even if we assume that the Russians would abide by such provisions, the plan would be all to the advantage of the Reds. Nuclear weapons are part of the west's neutralizer against the heavier odds of manpower available to the Russians. There is no guarantee against nuclear weapons hurled over the area of disengagement. And our experiences in Korea with the bland agreements of the Reds concerning the introduction of new-weapons and men into banned areas should have taught us all we need to know about inspection conventions when one signatory is communist.

Other disengagement plans include the setting up of sanitized or "freeze" zones in which outside troops would be drawn back several hundred miles from a no man's land stretching from the North Sea to the Bavarian Alps, and with Germany, one of the strongest of NATO nations, rendered impotent. The background for such plans dwells almost entirely upon some indication of a fear of renewed Prussian aggression and an ignoring of the obvious fact that a drawing back of western troops would leave little depth for strength in case the Russians should violate the agreement.

Actually the whole idea of disengagement seems to be faulty. If the principle is sound why have we not drawn back behind our two big oceans, far greater barriers than any hundred mile line in Germany, and waited for the tensions and conflicts with other nations to go away? Oddly enough the people who have screamed about the fallacy of isolationism are the very advocates of this fancy word for separating the forces in Germany. But whatever its name, such disengagement would simply open a power vacuum to Red forces who would occupy and then, jeu accompli, wonder what the west would do about retrieving the lost territory.

Disengagement, whether proposed by George Kennan or Nikita Khrushchev, is a myth, not a miracle. It is an ostrich approach to the realities of the world today and, if it put off a shooting war, it would gain neither permanent peace nor any justice at all. In the western countries it is proposed by people who are sincerely concerned about the very real possibilities of war but who are so blinded by fear of such conflict that they fail to recognize the dangers of what can only be called appeasement. It is no way to peace. It is no help to liberty.

Now Is the Time to Fight Cancer

Across the nation the month of April will be devoted to raising funds for the American Cancer society. This year the society has an unlimited goal in its crusade. It is simply asking the public for all of the dollars necessary to save all of those who now die from cancer.

Since 40 million living Americans will get cancer some day unless the disease is checked no conceivable price is too much to pay for a successful campaign. In Outagamie county the committee has set a tentative goal at $16,640. Solicitors will be busy for the greater part of the month and will be part of an army of some 25,000 volunteers. This week there is a neighbor to neighbor solicitation.

For many long, weary years people have looked upon cancer as an unconquerable enemy. However, in recent years there has been a great change in public attitude. Funds from the American Cancer society alone now are supporting more than 1,000 scientists in research centers in the nation. Their goal is to find a way to save the lives of the 255,000 men, women and children who die of cancer each year.

Even among the scientists there is a new attitude. There are hundreds of them trained since the war who are in research directed against cancer. A great many things have been learned raising the hopes of scientists and this has been transmitted to the public. The measure of success and the foundation for the new hope can be told in a few words. Ten years ago only one person in four who developed cancer was saved. Today it is one out of three. The new goal is to save one out of two and it is in sight. There are today 800,000 Americans alive who have been cured of cancer. That is the proof of success.

Any citizen would be hard pressed to find a better way to spend a few spare dollars than to make a contribution to this very worthy cause.

The Battle of the Blues

The Blue Shield and Blue Cross organizations are embroiled in an unpleasant fight before the legislature about the respective spheres of operations of the two prepaid insurance organizations affiliated respectively with the medical doctors and the general hospitals.

The fight is occasioned by the legislative bill sponsored by Blue Cross that would have the effect of denying Blue Shield the right to offer hospital insurance contracts to the general public. Blue Shield otherwise sells prepaid medical and surgical care insurance.

As we understand the complaint of Blue Cross as it was elaborated before a legislative committee, it is 2-fold:

Blue Shield is exceeding its authority as conferred by legislative charter in selling prepaid hospital insurance in competition with Blue Cross.

Blue Cross is losing some accounts because Blue Shield offers lower rates, rates that the hospital spokesmen fear may be subsidized by diversion of premium income received from surgical and medical care policyholders.

We wish the hospitals and the doctors well, and assert that both have served a beneficial purpose in providing reliable prepaid health insurance. But we confess to some perplexity about the method chosen by the hospital organization to protest the program of its competitor.

If the doctors' group is selling insurance beyond the authority of its legislative charter, the quickest remedy that can be had is through an appeal to the courts for an interpretation of legislative intent. To our knowledge no such action for a judicial interpretation of the relevant statute has been started.

If there is any doubt about the integrity of the fiscal management of any insurance underwriter, the proper recourse is to the state insurance department, an agency generously endowed with public money for precisely that purpose — the examination and regulation of the underwriters for the protection of their policyholders. As it turns out, both of these groups are exempt from such regulation, for reasons not wholly clear to us. If there is a complaint about either of them, it would seem that the simplest remedy would be to ask the legislature to repeal their exempt status. To our knowledge that has not been done.

The general public, including more than a million Wisconsin residents who are directly involved in this feud as payers of premiums, will be inclined to believe that there is room in the market for both organizations, on equal terms, with provisions for public regulation. It is from that viewpoint that we hope the legislature will respond.

Is Driving Becoming More Dangerous?

The National Safety council points out the 5,290 deaths in traffic accidents during January and February were 3 per cent higher than the 5,130 during the same period last year.

During the previous two years there had been a steady improvement in the traffic death rate. Therefore this 3 per cent upswing in the first two months of 1959 gives the safety experts something to worry about. We have just passed through an unusually severe winter many days of which saw the highways snowbound and automobile traffic at a minimum. Thus the common practice of associating a higher accident rate with heavier traffic does not hold. However, there have been numerous accidents with heavy death toll which could be attributed directly to the weather. Poor visibility and slippery roads have contributed an important number of deaths.

It is a good thing, however, for the members of the safety council, and in fact for all drivers, to be concerned over this rising rate. The drivers have it within their power to reverse the trend by merely applying the safety rules they all know so well. It lies within the power of the American drivers to make the 1959 accident rate conform to the declining trend which prevailed in 1957 and 1958. There is no more important thing than that.

Cities Seek Local Income Taxes
As Municipal Expenses Increase

From The Grand Forks, N. D., Herald

Dwellers in cities which do not now have wage taxes, earnings taxes, or payroll taxes are going to hear a lot more about them as municipal expenses mount and local governments have more and more difficulty in meeting their bills. By whatever name called, these are local income taxes, imposed on top of the federal income tax, also the state income tax where there is one. A leading authority has described the city income tax as potentially "one of the most important local taxes of the future."

Local taxes on income are now collected by some 665 cities, towns, and other governmental units. The large cities of Cincinnati, Columbus, Louisville, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Toledo are among those tapping this source of revenue. In all of the cities using the tax it has yielded large revenues; in some it has made possible reductions in real estate and other property taxes.

The great attraction of the income tax, from the point of view of municipal finance officers, is that it applies to all wages and salaries earned within the city, whether the earner lives there or elsewhere. It is "the tax that jumps the city limits," the tax that catches the "free rider." The so-called free rider is the fellow who earns his livelihood in the city but lives in the suburbs beyond the reach of the city's tax collectors.

The suburbanite adds to the city's expenditures on street, parking and traffic-control facilities; also to its outlays for fire protection, police protection, and sanitation. But he contributes nothing to the municipal treasury, except where the city takes a slice of his earnings through an income tax collected at the source. City finance officers are fascinated by figures which show that Philadelphia gets 15 per cent of its total revenues from non-residents; Cincinnati, 17 per cent; St. Louis, 25 per cent. In some smaller cities the proportion is even higher.

Not all municipal experts agree that persons who live in the "bedroom communities" which fringe large cities are a burden to the city's core. It is pointed out that the central cities finance themselves in part from taxes on commercial and industrial enterprises whose work forces come in part from the suburbs. Thus, one authority has said, suburbanites are "denied the benefits of the property taxes they create through their employment and through their purchasing."

Another expert maintains that "costs of city services to commuters can be considered to be met by taxes on business firms which they serve and patronize."

Philadelphia has had its pioneering income tax since 1940. The yield rose from $16.3 million in that year to $27.6 million in 1947, and to $63.7 million in 1957. The 1959 yield is estimated at $68.5 million. This is a rate of increase not duplicated by any other form of local revenue. All of the other local income taxes are of postwar vintage.

City income tax rates are low, varying from 1 per cent to Philadelphia's 1 1/2 per cent, with most of them levied at 1 per cent. Comparisons of per capita returns from a 1 per cent sales tax and a 1 per cent income tax have shown that in every size city the take from the income tax is higher than from the tax on sales.

Baltimore's commission for new revenue considered a sales tax but last month recommended an income tax instead. No other source, it said, offered "so high a potential yield with so equitable a distribution of the tax burden and without predictable damage to the economy of the city."

Democrat Goes Without an 'ic'

From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Just why syllable dropping can sound insulting is not altogether clear. Nevertheless Idaho Democrats tried to resist a recent Republican tendency to speak of the Democratic party, and passed a bill requiring "Democratic." Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie has vetoed the bill as unnecessary, as indeed it should be. For the logical response for the Democrats is to drop the same "ic" from Republican, which Republican's drop from Democratic. Thus

Democrats Celebrate Victory

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 10, 1880.

A large number of jubilant Democrats, including the general city officers elect, as well as many of the ward officers met at Mr. Hettinger's hotel on the evening of the election and after the results of the election had been determined, built a bonfire and with the hearty election of the city ticket.

Speeches were made and the best of good humor prevailed. The celebration continued until a very late hour. Mr. Hettinger making it comfortable for his guests in the most accommodating manner.

Democrats to Control State Highway Body

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The prospective taking over of control of the big and powerful state highway commission by the Democratic state administration is a bonus for the new regime that was almost totally unexpected.

Only a handful of persons knew that Chairman Harold Plummer of the commission was required to leave his desk by July 1 of this year, through a quirk in the state pension law. The publicity focus had been on the imminent expiration of the term of Charles Ahner, one of the three commissioners. There had been considerable speculation about other patronage opportunities of the new governor but it was only ten days ago, months after the election, that the press belatedly learned that Plummer was on the way out and that in the process the governor could take over the big agency in his first rather than in his second term.

It is up to Gov. Nelson to decide whether Plummer goes or remains on duty. He can extend his term of service, notwithstanding the retirement act, if he chooses to do so. But it goes without saying that Nelson will do no such thing. He will want his own man in that key role, rather than a man who has spent his adult life as a Republican and rose to command of the big department by Republican dispensation.

WILLING

It is necessary to report, however, that Mr. Plummer is departing according to his own plan and cannot be represented as wishing or expecting the governor's patronage. One of his noteworthy policies as chief of the department during the decade of its most vital growth was the imposition of a literal adherence to the retirement act for his subordinates, without exceptions. As he realized and said consistently during the last several years, that rule had to apply to the boss man as well as the others on the staff.

If public services are measured by their money score alone, the highway department is the great empire of the state government. Its annual current disbursements of more than $200,000,000 a year are larger than the total of all the executive budget agencies, for example. It has operated with a peculiar degree of autonomy, partly through historical reference could be made to the Republican party, a repugnant reference indeed. But for that, and no "ics" anywhere.

cal habit, and partly through the tolerance of all recent administrations.

Gov. Nelson, as executive, and Candidate Nelson as stumper, have indicated repeatedly that there were things about the highway department and the highway program that needed changing. Now the Plummer departure and the Ahner expiration will give Nelson the chance to put in two of his own men and take over.

MEANING

Yet abrupt or revolutionary changes in policy cannot be looked for. They will be details. Nelson has shown that he wants highways built at an even more rapid pace than the record-breaking schedule maintained in recent years, and particularly the through roads for which he has said he would issue bonds if necessary.

Such talk was not in any respect displeasing to the Plummer commission. The commission chairman, indeed, had told the new governor at the budget hearings three months ago his own conviction that the state, in spite of highway spending at historic levels, probably was not keeping up with the real road-improvement needs.

There are few ideological differences among the highway enthusiasts, which recalls an anecdote. About a year ago an editor asked for a report forecasting the state of affairs in Wisconsin a quarter of a century hence. What would Wisconsin look like then? The correspondent went to an old statehouse hand for counsel.

"That's easy," said the philosophical fellow who had observed the promotions of such public works boosters as Plummer and the aeronautics commission's Tom Jordan.

"The state will be covered over with concrete."

Milk Orders Cover Most Of Wisconsin

From The Wisconsin Dairymen

Pricing of milk according to its utilization is used frequently in large city markets in the United States today.

This method of milk pricing has basically two objectives from the producers' standpoint: (a) stabilize returns, and (b) improve returns over the long run with respect to supply and demand conditions. The basic methods employed to reach these goals are essentially the same in most federal order milk markets but differ with respect to administrative detail. Specific market orders are modified in terms of conditions and problems peculiar to the individual market areas.

A large part of Wisconsin is now a source of supply for some federal market order. A total of 10 different milk market orders now cover Wisconsin producers. The latest report on sources of federal order milk indicate that each of these 10 orders receives milk from producers located in as few as two or as many as 37 Wisconsin counties.

you, with fullest emphasis, in two sentences: "Public opinion, both in Germany and abroad, is inclined to underestimate the position, the tasks and the work of the president of the republic. These are far greater than is generally believed." He went on to say that Bonn government's foreign policy would not be changed during the east-west conference.

Adenauer made no mention of any possible successor in the chancellery. Nor did he say what prompted his decision at this time but it generally is believed he is bowing to his years. He also has been plagued recently by colds and other ailments. He wound up his address by saying: "We are and we remain loyal partners of our partners, loyal friends of our friends and alert opponents of anyone who opposes our just demands for peace and freedom and reunification in peace and freedom."

His recorded address was broadcast shortly before he leaves for a month's vacation in Italy.

Can't Yield
"No German government," Adenauer said, "can renounce the rights of the repressed portion of the German nation to decide their political fate freely through self-determination."

"No German government can accept a confederation plan of the two German states which aims not only at isolating the federal republic (West Germany) from without and the destruction of the free society internally but also removes any chances for the reestablishment of German unity in freedom."

His step brought mixed reactions in Europe. The communists said Adenauer had been forced to capitulate by lack of support in his own party. A Soviet news correspondent pictured his decision as a defeat of his "tough negative policy with regard to all proposals designed to relax the international atmosphere."

West Germans and persons in allied capitals looked for a new approach to old problems by the new chancellor—but no startling revision in Adenauer's policies.

Allied diplomats cautioned Bonn's attitude toward a possible German settlement will become more flexible. It said "There really isn't very much room to maneuver," one ranking diplomat said. "You can feint and you can bob and weave, but when you come right down to it, your basic job is to resist en-

Hallows directed a state-ment of congratulations — something, he told newsmen wryly, that is "getting to be a habit with me" to Hallows and wished the victor "a long and successful career on the bench."

Honeck found comfort and "great value" in his showing in the non-partisan voting. "In a partisan election, a candidate picks up a lot of incidental votes," Honeck said. "This election was a matter of personal following and I am deeply grateful for the splendid support by so many persons."

British Opinion Split
British newspapers were divided in their reaction to Adenauer's plan to step down. The Financial Times welcomed the move; the conservative Daily Telegraph expressed doubts. The Telegraph said the Russians would assume, rightly or wrongly, that Bonn's attitude toward a possible German settlement will become more flexible. It said "There really isn't very much room to maneuver," one ranking diplomat said. "You can feint and you can bob and weave, but when you come right down to it, your basic job is to resist en-

It Pays to Own a Dodge!

(It could save you hundreds of dollars!)

Okay, it's settled. You've thought about it and talked about it and now you've decided: A new car—and soon. Now for the jackpot question. Which '59 car will it be?

Unless you happen to be a Mr. Gotrocks, you'll probably think pretty carefully before you finally make the move. You'll do more shopping and compare more closely. And you'll ask yourself some basic questions. How much will a new car cost me to buy? How much will it cost me to drive? What do I get for my money?

There is no mystery about new car prices

Until this year, it was hard to compare different makes of cars to find which offered the most value for the money. It was like comparing apples and bananas. But not any more. Not since all new cars are required to carry price labels. Now, for the first time, you can compare various makes and models and see exactly what you're getting for your money. It's like exposing the hole cards in a game of stud poker. You know exactly where you stand.

Why should you buy a Dodge?

No one has to tell you that there are a number of cars on the market that sell for less than a Dodge. No car on that count. You know it and we know it. But there are things you get in a Dodge that you simply can't get in these other smaller cars.

And this is important. Dodge gives you all of these things—the bigness and roominess, the comfort and ride, the luxury and prestige—for less than other cars in its field.

It's not just a few dollars less, either; in many cases it's literally hundreds of dollars less. Some Dodge models are even priced lower than the so-called "low-priced cars."

(We'll be happy to show you the actual suggested retail prices.)

All cars cost money to run—but how much?

It would be nice if you just bought a new car and that was that. It didn't burn gas. Didn't use oil. Never needed service. But that's wishful thinking. Cars do use gas and oil. They do need service occasionally. But that doesn't mean that all cars cost the same to drive and maintain. Not by a jugful. There's a big difference.

Dodge is designed to run for less

Dodge has always had a reputation for economical operation. People who have owned them have found it costs less to run a Dodge, and that a Dodge needs service less often.

Take gasoline economy. The new Dodge 325 cu. in. Red Ram V-8 engine, because of its design and efficiency, will take you more farther on a gallon of gas than any other V-8 in the Dodge field. You save money every time you drive.

But that's only part of the story. The way Dodge is engineered and built saves you money on such things as engine wear, brake lining, tune-ups, spark plug replacement. When you add them all up, they represent quite a saving. Another reason why it pays to own a Dodge.

What do you get for what you pay?

According to Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices, Dodge generally costs less, more, for model, than other cars in its field. Fine and dandy. But while price is important, it isn't the only consideration. The real standard of value—whether you're buying a new car or a can of beans—is what you get for what you pay. It's the "extras" you get at no extra cost that really determine which car is the best buy.

Dodge gives you more for less

Talk is cheap. Anyone can make claims. So let's be specific about the extras you get in Dodge at no extra cost. Torsion-Aire Ride—conceded the finest suspension in the industry—standard equipment on all Dodge models. Total-Contact Brakes. Safety-Rim Wheels. Electric Wipers. Independent Parking Brakes—all standard on Dodge. Of course, you can also choose from such Dodge options as Push-Button Driving, Full-Time Power Steering and Swing-Out Seats. Seats.

There's a big difference in comfort, too

Goodness knows, we certainly don't want to knock competition. But we feel obliged to point out the comfort and convenience of the '59 Dodge. If you've tried getting into some of the other cars you know just what we mean. That's why we hope you'll come in and compare the difference in Dodge. How much easier it is to get in and out of a Dodge. How much more comfortable it is to sit in a Dodge. How much more room you have to stretch out.

It doesn't cost a penny to get the facts

We don't expect you to make a decision and plunk down your money for a new Dodge just on the basis of what you've read. But if what you've read seems to make sense, we do hope you'll stop in to see, to drive and to price a Dodge. We think it's a waste of a buy, but then maybe we're prejudiced. Why not drop in and judge for yourself. We'll be more than happy to give you all the facts. No obligation, of course.

State Backing for Flights Deferred

Governor Declines Any Stand, Sends Delegation to Commission

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson and Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds Tuesday deferred action on an Appleton delegation's appeal for state intervention with the civil aeronautics board to expedite scheduled air service for the Fox Cities.

A delegation of six officials from Appleton, Marshfield and community leaders was asked to return to Madison Friday to try to persuade the state aeronautics commission to change its neutral position on the issue.

The commission will meet in regular session Friday. The Fox Cities spokesmen Reynolds volunteered to ask the state government make arrangements for an Appleton delegation to appear before the Appleton neighboring communities in spokesmen.

Ultimate Service Karl Baldwin, Appleton lawyer and spokesman for the group, told the governor's chief legal officer that Appleton has been certificated for service. It is assured of scheduled flights.

The Executive Committee of the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers Association convention here Friday is completing plans for the annual event. AHS Principal H. H. Helble, at the left, is general chairman. He is conferring with Herbert Simon, luncheon chairman, Kenneth Peterson, treasurer from Neenah, Miss LaVerne Kniebusch, publicity chairman, and Werner Witte, president. All of the convention committees are headed by Appleton teachers.

The airlines appeal may take as much as two years to litigate.

"This won't hurt Marshfield," he said, "but we don't want to wait that long." He said the city probably will get two flights north and two south.

Baldwin said James R. Durfee, CAB chairman, virtually invited state intervention in the Appleton proposal when he noted in a recent letter that his files do not yet show any evidence of such backing by the state or the municipalities concerned. Outagamie county, labor, business, civic organizations and others are acting to file statements, he related.

Other members of the delegation were Douglas Evans, of the county airport committee, Gus Zuelke, City Atty. Don Jury, Mayor Clarence Mitchell and Harold Adams.

City Firemen Plan Drive on Illegal Trash Burners

A drive will be launched Monday to force violators to conform to the city's trash burner code. Fire Chief Paul Neumann announced today.

Fire inspectors will tour the city to inventory the violations and violators will be sent a 10-day notice to comply or face court action, Neumann said.

City ordinances forbid burning in approved trash burners within five feet of sidewalks, lot lines, trees and bushes, and within 10 feet of any buildings or combustible materials. Burning without a burner is forbidden within 30 feet of any combustible material.

Ordinances also require that the burner be closed or have an approved wire screen. The screen cannot have smaller than No. 8 wire and the mesh may not be larger than an inch across.

Woman Hurt in 2-Car Collision

Mrs. Edna Goudemans, 40, of Kaukauna, was taken to Theda Clark hospital about noon today after she was injured in a 2-car collision at Duane and Franklin streets about 10:40 a.m. today.

Mrs. Goudemans' car, southbound on Duane, collided with one driven by Miss Patricia Ryan, 16 W. College avenue, westbound on Franklin.

Mrs. Goudemans received chest injuries and a possible concussion.

Carburetor Trouble Starts Fire in Car

Engine wiring and the radiator hose of an automobile owned by Donald West, 719 E. Washington street, was damaged by fire about 5:15 a.m. today at Duane and Franklin streets. The fire department reports the carburetor flooded, caused fire and spread. The department says firemen also found a fuel oil leak from the radiator hose.

H. C. Prange company, new store, moved about 11:15 a.m. today after a fire started in the old store.

Byrnes Rejects Idea Of Politics on Port

Minneapolis-Eau Claire-Wausau-Wisconsin Rapids-Stevens Point-Clintonville-Green Bay-Manitowoc-Oshkosh-Milwaukee, with the right to overfly Green Bay, Manitowoc and Oshkosh.

"This route," Byrnes reports, "already has been rejected by the CAB in its original proceedings and North Central's petition advances no economic justification for it. It is opposed by the state and presumably by Eau Claire and Marshfield."

The airline's exemption application—to serve the county port temporarily on a Green Bay-Manitowoc route — "neglects to state that it is a route which would ignore Appleton's need for service to the west," Byrnes maintains.

These important facts seem to have been overlooked, Byrnes says.

Overlooked Facts North Central could fly the CAB-approved route tomorrow, without prejudicing any appeal to the CAB or the courts.

North Central could fly the approved route without stopping at Marshfield, if the airline merely asks CAB permission. CAB approval would be immediate since Marshfield's port is not ready for service and may not be for another year and has not been approved by the federal aviation agency.

North Central could fly tomorrow an Appleton-Milwaukee-Chicago route, which, with the exception of the connection to Green Bay, is substantially what the airline seeks in its exemption request.

North Central, says Byrnes, "has failed to request permission to by-pass Marshfield. . . while . . . maintaining the need to service Marshfield is its principal objection to the route."

"It has injected a phony deadline into the matter when no deadline, insofar as the government is concerned, exists."

'Falsely Led' "It has falsely led Appleton to believe that air service to Appleton depends upon action by the CAB, when, in fact, air service depends upon North Central's coming alive to its responsibilities as a heavily-subsidized air carrier."

"The plain facts are," says Byrnes, "there is only one real obstacle to air service to Appleton. That obstacle is North Central Airlines."

Byrnes advises this procedure:

1. Support the CAB's route.

Mrs. G. C. Gajewski Loses by 37 Votes To Incumbent

Menasha — A scant 37-vote margin Tuesday retained Ted R. Neely as member of the Menasha board of education. He was one of the three candidates seeking two three-year posts on the board beginning July 1.

John Pawlowski, Jr., who polled 1,540 votes Tuesday in the city and town of Menasha will return to the board after a year's absence. He was defeated last April after serving a three-year term.

Neely received 1,475 votes in the city and town, 37 more than the total of the third candidate, Mrs. George Gajewski 1,438.

Mrs. Gajewski led only in the Fourth ward's first precinct, although she failed to carry her own Third ward.

Deborah Werner to Undergo Heart Surgery; Pick Donors

Menasha — Sixteen donors have been selected to give blood for 2-year-old Deborah Werner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor D. Werner, 530 Washington avenue, Neenah, who will undergo heart surgery Friday at Madison to correct a congenital defect.

Chosen after extensive testing to make sure their blood exactly matched the child's and met other qualifications, the 16 donors will give their blood Thursday when the Red Cross bloodmobile is set up at Menasha Congregational church.

Platt Chairman

William Platt, blood program chairman of the Menasha chapter, American Red Cross, sponsor of this week's visit of the bloodmobile, expressed the appreciation of both the Neenah and Menasha chapters for the overwhelming response to their appeal for O-positive blood for the little girl.

Blood samples taken at Theda Clark Memorial hospital were sent to Madison, where final selection of the 16 donors was made.

The overall quota for the bloodmobile's visit this week is 240 pints. Although more than 300 persons are scheduled to come in, Mrs. Owen Sullivan, chairman of the scheduling committee, warned that colds and flu may result in many rejections, and walking in donors will be welcomed as usual, especially on Friday, when the schedule is light.

Hours of the blood bank are noon to 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Friday.

There are no immediate survivors.

Use Two Schools

The program will open at 8 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m., with an hour off at noon. The program is open to the public and will be at Wilson school for the piano and orchestra contests and at Neenah High school for the vocal events.

A judges' luncheon will be at noon at the Valley Inn and the various school groups are being assigned to various churches or the Neenah club for their dinners. Concessions will be available at both schools as well as the use of the gymnasiums for recreational activities and dancing.

Mayor Chester S. Bell has proclaimed Saturday as Music Festival day in honor of the program and called upon Neenah residents to extend a hearty welcome and hospitality to the visitors whether students, school administrators, parents or spectators.

POST CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Menasha - Neenah

Neenah Voters Return Four to Common Council

Westland Defeats Ald. Parman In 7th Ward; Others Reelected

Neenah — Only one of Neenah's four aldermen who had opposition in Tuesday's election went down in defeat while the other incumbents won by sizeable majorities.

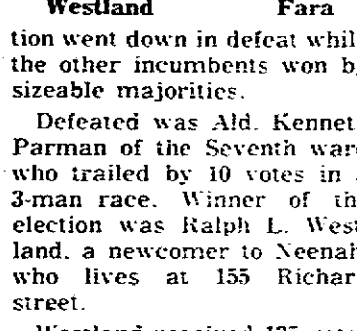

Defeated was Ald. Kenneth Parman of the Seventh ward who trailed by 10 votes in a 3-man race. Winner of the election was Ralph L. Westland, a newcomer to Neenah, who lives at 155 Richard street.

Westland received 135 votes to 125 for Parman, who has served one year as alderman and 105 for R. Eugene Heimerman. Westland, salesman for a feed company, is a former teacher and football coach at Mount Horeb High school.

Peter Fara won reelection to his Third ward council post by defeating Robert H. Lenth, 181 to 92. Fara has served on the council since 1956.

Dix Beats Murphy

Fifth ward voters named Ald. Aaron Dix to succeed himself on the council. Dix received 267 votes to 182 for Ray Murphy, who had served three years on the council prior to being unseated by Dix last April during the redistricting election.

Ald. Paul B. Hansen will represent the Ninth ward for Tuesday.

County Board Votes

None of the county board candidates had opposition and one new member was elected from Neenah. He is Clarence E. Loehning who will represent the Tenth ward. The incumbent, Frank Klinkle, did not seek reelection. Loehning received 202 votes.

Complimentary votes for the other county board supervisors who were reelected are Alvin A. Stafford, Third ward, 251; Norbert H. Redlin, Fifth ward, 412; John T. Heigl, Seventh ward, 315; and Reinhold Grunski, Eighth ward, 266.

Woman, Baby, Hurt in Crash, Listed Improved

Menasha — Two persons, injured Sunday in a car-train accident at Fourth and Ra-Schindler 31, are in improved condition today at Theda Clark Memorial hospital.

Jerome Valenta, Jr., 6-week old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome G. Valenta, route 1, Mishicot, who suffered a fractured skull in the collision, showed steady improvement. He had been listed critical.

His grandmother, Mrs. Earl Stueck, 45, also of Mishicot, is in satisfactory condition, having been released from the hospital Tuesday.

Constable Loses

All incumbents were reelected except one, Constable Herbert Trader. He lost by two votes to Milton Bernger, 373 old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome G. Valenta, route 1, Mishicot, who suffered a fractured skull in the collision, showed steady improvement. He had been listed critical.

His grandmother, Mrs. Earl Stueck, 45, also of Mishicot, is in satisfactory condition, having been released from the hospital Tuesday.

Constable Only Incumbent to Lose In Tuesday Voting

Menasha — Amos D. Page far outdistanced his two opponents to win the town of Menasha chairmanship Tuesday, succeeding Oliver Jacobsen who has held the post for 17 years and did not seek reelection.

Page previously served as town treasurer for many years and has been the town's planning member on the regional planning commission. As town chairman he will represent the town on the Winnebago county board.

The new chairman received 372 votes to 211 for John B. Schindler and 182 to John Murphy. The first precinct, the area east of the lake, cast 233 votes for Page, 180 for Schindler and 93 for Murphy while the second precinct, the western section, gave Page 149 votes, Murphy 69 and E. P. Arpin with 2,312 votes at Theda Clark hospital.

Reelected to the Neenah School board Tuesday were the three incumbents, one of them far outdistancing a write-in campaign for four persons. Left to right are, Paul Groth, Mrs. Ione McConnell and Arthur W. Plummer, who has indicated he will be moving from the city this summer and will be resigning then from the term which begins in July.

Neenah Reelects Three to Office; Plummer Outpolls Total for Write-Ins

Reelected were Paul Groth with 2,121 votes, Mrs. Ione McConnell with 1,919 votes, and Arthur W. Plummer, whose announcement of a planned moving from the city prompted the write-in campaign, 1,146 votes.

Plummer announced over a week ago that he had accepted a position with an Eastern paper company and would be moving from the city sometime this summer. The write-in campaign for various candidates did not begin until Monday.

Next in line was Edgar Schmiel with 369 votes, trailed by Clarence B. Allen with 314 votes, T. C. Willoughby with 112 votes and L. A. Gilbertson with 62 votes. Gilbertson's entry into the race had not been publicized in Monday's papers.

Neenah Township Residents Favor 21-Year Limit

Neenah — A 21-year-old minimum for purchasing beer in the town of Neenah won the approval of township residents at their annual meeting Tuesday night at the Lakeview school.

The town does not have any beer bars now and Town Chairman Laurel Heaney indicated the town board had no plans to issue any such permits.

C. G. Russell Johnson's motion to have the town board take whatever action is necessary to prohibit the sale of beer to anyone under 21 years of age received a strong affirmative voice vote.

Residents also approved a proposed budget of $80,150 for the coming year, slightly under that actually spent this year, which totaled $81,696.

Improvement of the Larsen road intersection with County Trunk S, which has a steep hill, was voted at a cost of about $1,200. The town already has spent about $3,500 on this intersection. The road is considered dangerous for school buses, according to John Arnold, Tullar school board member, who made the motion.

Blacktop Road

The residents also approved blacktopping .8 of a mile of Tullar road from Highway 114 north to County Trunk S at a cost of about $8,000. The road carries considerable tonnage on it. About $500 is to be spent on improving the intersection of County Trunk A and the S. Park avenue road.

Arnold also inquired as to the status of present Highway 41 after the beltline is completed and Heaney reported he had heard it might become a county trunk.

Heaney reported conferences had been held with David "Jim" Courtney of Courtney and Plummer company regarding snow removal next winter, supplementing that done by the county. Courtney reported he would need permission of the state highway department to have a unit over 8 feet wide which could be used for snow plowing as well as for summer work.

The town residents approved having the town attorney draw up a resolution asking the state to grant such permission. Courtney said equipment that wide now could not be used on weekends or after dusk, when most of the snow plowing is done.

A request from Jim O'Connor to have street lights along Highway 41 at the intersections with the town line road, Breezewood land and County Trunk G was tabled until the board thought the lights were necessary. Some felt that if lights were put at those sites, C. O. Halverson who has they would have to be put all over the township.

Of all town income, 70 cents of the dollar received is from the local tax, 18 cents from the state income tax apportionment, 2 cents from public utility taxes and 9 cents from miscellaneous sources such as road and license fees.

Oshkosh Vote Endorses City Manager Plan

Move to Return to Mayor-Council Form Soundly Trowned

Oshkosh — Voters here gave a vote of confidence to the city manager plan, now completing its second year, by voting to continue that form of government. A referendum to change the plan lost 2,922 to 4,247 after a bitterly fought campaign.

Only two wards, the Sixth and Thirteenth, voted in favor of returning to the former mayor-council plan.

Named to the four city-at-large council posts were Robert Stauffer, 7,969; Dey C. McCrey, 7,713; John E. Fitzgerald, 7,471; and Erbin Harenburg 6,269. Trailing them were Herbert Pitz, 5,439; Ted R. Jackson, 5,395; and Phillip Staub, 4,683. McCrey and Stauffer are incumbents and two other incumbents did not seek reelection.

James Cain with 5,126 votes and Robert Mehlman with 4,903 votes were named to the school board. Next in line were Elmer Marsh with 4,345 votes, Harold Pedersen with 4,290 votes and Harold Strzowski with 3,325 votes. Pedersen and Cain were the incumbents.

Floyd Atherton and William Gengler were reelected to the two justice of the peace posts.

All of the churches are National Lutheran council churches.

Speak Nightly
During their 5-day stay in the area the clergymen and their host pastors will hold retreats in Wausau. A part of the mission is to strengthen Christian convictions of members and to bring the unreachable under influence of the gospel. To accomplish the latter, lay visitors from the congregations will be inviting some unchurched members of their communities to accompany them to services.

Final plans for the event were made Sunday at Merrill with nearly 500 committee members present.

4 Kindergarten Registration Periods Set

Only Enrolment
Time Available
Before New Term

Menasha — Parents of kindergarten-age children may participate in briefing programs at the four elementary schools April 27-30. Miss Edythe Sanderman, elementary school supervisor, reported today.

Each day's program will begin at 1:30 p.m. The schedule is April 27 for residents of the Butte des Morts school area. April 28, Nicolet school; April 29, Clovis-Grove; and April 30, Jefferson.

The programs will begin with showings of a film, "A Day in the Life of a Five-Year-Old," followed by a discussion of the physical examination report blank by Miss Lillian Lyon, school nurse.

Also to be explained will be changes in procedure in the coming school year. At the close of the programs, envelopes with all necessary registration forms and instructions will be distributed. Enrolment information will be returned by mail.

No fees will be collected at the meetings and no records will be taken then.

A coffee hour will close the programs. Parents then may discuss speech and dental hygiene questions with Miss Helen Halpert, speech correctionist, and Miss Delores DeLanty, dental hygienist.

Miss Sanderman emphasized the four periods will be the only registrations held before the fall term begins. Children eligible to attend kindergarten are those who will have reached their fifth birthdays by Sept. 30.

County Ranks Fourth in State On Cancer Deaths

Winchester — Winnebago county in 1958 ranked fourth in Wisconsin in number of cancer deaths. Mrs. Loren Johnson, town of Winchester cancer crusade chairman, reminded town residents.

Counties ranking before Winnebago in cancer deaths are Milwaukee, Dane and Racine, in that order.

Workers in the town soliciting funds include Mrs. Rudolph Erickson, Mrs. Norman Lipske, Adolph Sauby, Mr. and Mrs. Art Vandenberg, Mrs. Lillian Skafte, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peterson, Mrs. Howard Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eckstein, Mrs. Leonard Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Christianson, Mrs. Joe Peterson, Mrs. Andy Konow, Mrs. Albert Bork, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henkel, Mrs. Joan Immo, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Warning.

Mrs. Johnson announced free cancer dressings are available for those needing them. A hospital bed and wheelchair, being kept at the town hall for cancer patients, can be secured through Town Chairman Gordon Hanson.

Five Proposed For Committee on Guidance Center

Neenah — The names of five lay persons being recommended to serve on the advisory committee for the new Winnebago county guidance center were announced today. Selection is to be made by the county board.

Representatives representing the lay people, including George Stevens of Winnebago, Mr. William H. Johnson of Menasha, Mrs. C. G. Johnson of Neenah, Mrs. M. J. Johnson of Neenah, and the Rev. John J. O'Leary, director of the Winnebago County Catholic Apostolate.

The psychiatrist who will be director of the guidance center also will be on the committee.

Dogs May Not Run Loose, Clark Says

Menasha — A wave of complaints about dogs running loose was reported today by Police Chief Peter P. Clark, who reminded dog owners city ordinances require the animals to be kept tied up at all times.

Dogs, he said, may not run loose. If an owner takes a dog out, the animals must be on leash, Clark said.

Dogs must be kept out of others' yards, he added. Some animals lately have been running loose in the mud and jumping on children, getting their clothing dirty.

Clark asked all dog owners to cooperate with the ordinance and to have 1959 licenses on the animals. The fees are $1 for males and spayed females and $2 for unspayed females.

Charlie's Funnybone Showing, Shares Favorites With Readers

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Never, in the history of American humor, has there been such a rash of off-beat stories as now.

Among them, my favorites are of the kind which I call shrdlu jokes wherein the tagline is garbled into a sensible, nonsensible one.

At the risk of numbing gentle reader with familiar jokes, I have rescued a group of them from oblivion to record here for posterity so that some dispenser of humor may find them and say, "I've never joked a herd like this before."

House
 sionally. Please do not complain to the management.

Shrdlu Jokes

At an Aleutian island airbase; the commanding officer was having great difficulties with Arctic terns which inhabited the island. When a plane would take off, or would come in for a landing,

At last he reached an inn and walked to the door. The knight lifted a weary arm and knocked feebly. The innkeeper came to the door and the knight begged the innkeeper for food, warmth and a place to stay.

The birds would rise up in "Nope," said the innkeeper, such great hordes that it "We're full up. Got no room." would endanger the aircraft. Then he slammed the door. The dog turned away and
The officer tried everything wearily began to walk down he could think of to rid the road,

Suddenly the innkeeper reopened the door and shouted. "All right, come on back. I'll find a place for you. I couldn't put out a knight on a dog like this."

One soldier made this suggestion: "I would give every soldier in our outfit a bag of stones. I would send them down to where the terns are nesting and have them throw rocks at them. In fact," he said, "I would leave no tern unstoned."

had been wounded in a battle and was left to die on the battlefield. A raging snowstorm came and just as the knight thought it was the end of everything for him, a huge St. Bernard came to his aid. Nobody ever saw the animal, but they knew it was always the same raider because of his odd footprints. They were shaped like those of a boy.

Firm Pays Fines on Three Counts

Wittenberg—Leonard Ebert, company. Bear Creek, was fined on three counts in justice court Monday.

The company paid $50 for improper use of license plates, and $10 each for failure to register a truck and failure to pay permit fees.

Ralph Richardson, 29, Rosholt was fined $50 for speeding. Other speeders fined were William Nolan, 26, Aniwa, $23; Michael Tusa, 36, Green Bay, $12; and Don Fraley, 21, Antigo, $18.

Marshall Worth, 21, Iron River, Mich., was fined $10 for making an illegal turn.

Kenneth Hoffman, 26, Bowler, was fined $10 for improper registration.

due time had caught the bear. The villagers killed the animal and lived happily ever after. The nub of the story is in the way they caught the boy-foot bear — with teak of Chan.

Still Another

A native king of a small island in the Pacific had lorded it over his subjects for many years. A complete tyrant, he would hold court once a day to hear the requests of his subjects.

It was his custom to sit upon a huge throne and to require the islanders to grovel in the dirt in front of him.

During the war years when Americans occupied his island, the native King was so long exposed to democracy that he finally decided to give up his great throne and to sit upon the ground and meet his people eye to eye. He had the big throne stowed away among the rafters of his grass hut.

One day as he was holding court in his new democratic way, a great windstorm arose and shook the hut so hard that the throne toppled out of its place in the rafters and fell upon the king, killing him outright.

Moral of the story is that people who live in grass houses shouldn't stow thrones.

I walked wearily for miles in the terrible storm.

At last he reached an inn and walked to the door. The knight lifted a weary arm and knocked feebly. The innkeeper came to the door and the knight begged the innkeeper for food, warmth and a place to stay.

"Nope," said the innkeeper, "We're full up. Got no room." Then he slammed the door. The dog turned away and wearily began to walk down the road.

Suddenly the innkeeper reopened the door and shouted. "All right, come on back. I'll find a place for you. I couldn't put out a knight on a dog like this."

In a little Tibetan village the townspeople had been terrorized by a huge bear which kept making raids on the town. He would snatch any living thing and carry it off to the hills. Cattle, oxen, sheep, and even children had been carried away by the bear.

Odd Footprints

Nobody ever saw the animal, but they knew it was always the same raider because of his odd footprints. They were shaped like those of a boy.

The villagers set dozens of traps for the bear, but the creature was so strong that he could break out without any trouble.

At length the townspeople heard of a professional bear trapper named Chan who lived in a nearby community and raised his own wood, a very tough kind of teak from which he made his sturdy traps.

Chan quickly made a strong trap, set it, and in

Author and 'Judge' Talk Things Over

Filming of 'Anatomy of Murder' Draws 2 Men of Law Together

BY JANET SCRIVSETH
Post-Crescent News Service

Marquette, Mich. — Joseph Welch, a Boston lawyer, and John D. Voelker, Michigan Supreme Court justice, appear uneasy about their new roles as movie star and author, respectively.

Welch, who became nationally famous in the televising of the 1954 Army-McCarthy hearings, insists his decision to accept the part of the judge in "Anatomy of a Murder," being filmed here, was in the spirit of adventure and not a switch in careers.

"Every night I say what hath God wrought?" Voelker admitted.

Welch, the lawyer turned movie star, and Voelker, the justice turned author, put their heads together often in the first two weeks of filming of the courtroom scenes "in grave conference," as Welch put it.

Voelker, back in Lansing today, was on the set as technical adviser. There are a few minor differences in court procedure in Michigan and Massachusetts, and both men of the law want the movie to represent the Marquette circuit court accurately. Welch said the changes coming out of these conferences were minute.

Second of a series on the filming of the movie, "Anatomy of a Murder," in Marquette, Mich.

The story has been immeasurably improved in spots, and only minor changes are being made, he said, adding that the movie is "capturing both the spirit and the action of the book."

He praised Preminger for what he called "a magnificent job."

Between takes, Welch takes refuge in the circuit judge's office where he has fallen in love with a battered, black leather chair which he insists visitors should try. There is a companion piece — a black leather couch, which Welch often stretches out on.

Retire Early
Wearied by the end of the day, Welch and his wife, who is a member of the movie body's conception of a judge. And I think the movie script's jury, retire early. Welch does not memorize his lines at night, as the others do. He said he is able to memorize them during rehearsal. He also is the only member of the cast who has been promised the use of a teleprompter if he wants one. So far he hasn't needed it.

For Welch, who had no previous experience with the movie industry, film making is far more meticulous than he had suspected. He described the process as "an interminable and expensive effort."

Although Welch said it is unlikely he would ever appear in another movie, he said it is not impossible. But he cannot conceive playing anything but a judge. Author Voelker, who has become quite well acquainted with Welch, had nothing but praise for him.

"He is making an excellent judge. He looks and acts like a good, wise judge," declared Voelker.

Illusions Gone
Like Welch, Voelker reported that some of his boyish illusions about Hollywood have disappeared since joining the movie set.

Voelker is on familiar ground in the tiny Marquette county courthouse. He served for 14 years as prosecuting attorney in the courtroom in which the movie's scenes are being filmed.

The justice still insists, but vainly, that "Anatomy of a Murder" is all fiction. It is agreed by virtually almost everyone else that it is a fairly close account of a celebrated 1952 case heard in the courtroom.

In that case he was the defense lawyer who won acquittal for his client an army lieutenant charged with the slaying of a tavern-keeper who allegedly attacked the officer's wife.

The rocketing to the best seller lists for more than a year destroyed the camouflage of Voelker's pen name. Despite his success as a novelist, Voelker claims he has no active plans to write another. He said he is too busy doing legal writing.

Social Benefits Sought for Farm Workers

Propose to Take Exemptions From Farmer-Employers

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison, Wis. — There are signs of a reappraisal of the traditional exemptions granted farmer employers from the laws providing benefits to unemployed workers and persons injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of their employment.

Democrats in the state senate have introduced a package proposal to liberalize the workers' compensation act in such a way as to chip away some of the exemptions enjoyed by farmers.

In Danger
At the same time the vegetable canning industry is in danger of losing its traditional exemption as an "agricultural" industry under the unemployment compensation act and its related payroll tax.

Both exemptions have been farm company will be in Upper Michigan. She didn't want to come to Marquette with him, feeling that she would be left alone too much of the time.

This was solved by making her a member of the jury which Welch considers highly unorthodox if the situation occurred in real life.

contained in the laws which provided argument since the pioneering worker benefit programs were enacted here.

The Democratic bill on workers' compensation provides for general increases in benefits to injured or ill workmen, but it would also defy precedent by including some farmers within its coverage terms.

Farmers employing three or more persons would be made liable for compensation, and would be required to buy insurance coverage, the bill provides.

Farm interests are certain to protest the farm provision as a precedent for ultimate inclusion of all farm employment.

Valley Artists Set Plans for Annual Art Fair in June

The Valley Artists association is making plans for the annual art fair at Valley Fair Shopping center in June. The show theme will be "On the Left Bank."

Co-chairmen are Mrs. Reynold Steinert and Mrs. Thomas Martin, both of Appleton.

Committees include Mrs. Marvin Hartjes, Little Chute, music; Mrs. Elmer Hall and Mrs. William Parmentier, both of Green Bay, decorations; Mrs. D. C. Hamerski, Mrs. John Mytas, both of Appleton, and Roger Rutten, Green Bay, posters; Mrs. Paul Steinert, Hortonville, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Meyers, Sherwood, picture arrangements, and Mrs. Sol Kazlow, Green Bay, Mrs. Elmer Thakke, Appleton, and Bernard Peterson, Oshkosh, publicity.

The group, which met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, voted to purchase a painting from a well-known Wisconsin artist and donate it to a Fox River Valley public school in the fall.

Mrs. Frank Shier, De Pere, and A. W. Mickelson, Green Bay, were presented as new members.

Invite All 5 Sisters, Reader Told

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be confirmed shortly and I am planning to have a reception for him at one of the social halls here in town. I intend to invite my daughter's fiancé's mother and also one of her sisters whom I have met on several occasions and like very much. My daughter's fiancé's mother has three other sisters whom I know only slightly. I had not planned to invite them to the reception but my daughter thinks I should as it would be very slighting to ask one and not the others. Will you please tell me if it is necessary to invite all four sisters?

Answer: Your daughter is right, it will be better to invite the other three sisters too. Not to do so might cause hurt feelings.

Gifts Are Hers

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister was going steady with a young soldier who was stationed in Germany. He sent her many lovely things from there. The young man is home now and soon will be discharged, but my sister no longer sees him as she has found someone else. Mother and I think she should return all the gifts she received from the first young man but she refuses to do so, saying that they were given to her and she has a right to keep them. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: As your sister was not engaged to the soldier and his gifts to her cannot be considered as objects for their future home, she is right in keeping them.

The Rev. Douglas E. Erickson and his wife, Milwaukee, were guest speakers for the United Lutheran church women's mission study day Tuesday at Trinity Lutheran church. The pair spoke on their experiences in China and Malaya. From left are Mrs. W. L. Meisle, Appleton, president of the local ULC unit, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson and Mrs. William Chandler, Appleton, national vice president of ULC.

Your Problems

Footloose, Fancy-Free Hubby Needs Sobering Ultimatum

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: Must a woman fight for her husband from the altar to the grave? We're both 43, married 18 years, and have three children.

A few years ago my husband became interested in community and philanthropic activities. He spends half his time traveling around the country. When he's in town he's off to meetings almost every night.

The woman he's involved with is also interested in community affairs. They met on a "committee" and have had their heads together ever since. She's 50 and has a wealthy husband about 60 who is a bore.

My husband insists I invite them to every gathering at our home. They always go off to a cozy nook and I'm left to listen to the bore's dull stories.

Last week he was out every night until 2:30 or 3:00 a.m. When he came home he had lipstick on his face and shirt. When I asked where he'd been he said "Riding around thinking."

He denies everything, says I'm over-tired, overwrought, and that I need a vacation. I told him if I see him fawn over this woman once more I'll make a scene no one will ever forget. Is this the answer?—Tired

No. This is not the answer. If you make a scene, you'll be labeled over-tired, overwrought, as well as unstable, hysterical and other choice names. Your husband and the woman naturally will band together to defend themselves against your "preposterous" accusations. In the privacy of your home, tell him you're not deaf, dumb and blind, that you can tell time and you know what lipstick is. Make it clear if he wants to enjoy the respectability of home and family he'd better deserve it, or move out bag and baggage.

Many footloose and fancy-free husbands, when confronted with such a sobering choice, decide home isn't such a bad place after all.

DEAR ANN: While I was mixing some cookie batter the other evening my 13-year-old daughter came into the kitchen. When I turned to get the cookie tins and she thought I couldn't see her, she put her entire hand into the batter, year-old. I think someone I got mad and tapped her should be here to keep the wrist with the egg beater. She house in order and keep an screamed as if I were killing her and her father came running in. He criticized me for my "brutal tactics".

He said all kids love cookie batter and I had no right to be so hard on her. How about it, Ann Landers, what would you have said to him? I always think of the right thing to say—two days later.—"Brutal!" Mother

"Dear 'Brutal' Mother: Sure all kids love cookie batter, but by the time a girl is 13 she should know about spoons.

Most kids like to lick the mixing bowl, but if your daughter couldn't wait, she should have asked for permission to taste, then used a teaspoon.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you settle a dispute? My husband and I have agreed to abide by your decision.

Our three daughters are 15, 11 and 10. My husband and I are planning a vacation which will take us away for about a month. I've been having a difficult time finding someone to stay with the children. My husband says it isn't necessary to have anyone here. He says girls this age should be able to take care of themselves.

I'd feel uneasy putting all the responsibility on the 15-year-old. I think someone I got mad and tapped her should be here to keep the wrist with the egg beater. She house in order and keep an

150 Hear Talks at Trinity

A group of 150 women from Trinity Lutheran and Our Saviour Lutheran churches gathered Tuesday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran parish hall to observe annual mission study day.

Mr. Erickson, who is stationed as an associate pastor at Incarnation Lutheran church, Milwaukee, formerly served for four years as a missionary in China and Malaya. He discussed his work and showed slides.

Mrs. Erickson talked on the Near East. The two sons of the Ericksons, who accompanied them to Appleton, donated native costumes of Malaya for the program.

Mrs. William Chandler, who serves as national vice president of United Lutheran Church women, introduced the speakers. Mrs. W. L. Meisle, president of the local ULC chapter, was in charge of the program.

Pan-American Day To be Observed At League's Party

Service Circle Hears Reports

Progress reports were submitted when Service circle of King's Daughters met Monday night with Miss Helen McGrath, 10 Pierce court. The Mmes. Francis Jenkins and George Theiss were co-hostesses.

Project chairmen discussed the Community Blood center, a spring rummage sale and canteen nights for special education groups. Mrs. Urban Van Susteren is chairman of the next canteen night, which will be April 24.

eye on them. Your decision, please.—Texas Mother

Dear Texas Mother: Don't leave these girls alone. If something happened you'd never forgive yourselves. Strange how people wouldn't dream of leaving furs or jewelry unguarded, yet they take chances with their children, the most priceless possession of all.

Warning to Dieters

When reducing, never undereat your protein or calcium intake. Proteins are essential constituents of the body, including the hair, skin, muscles, and bones. One egg, one slice of bread, and two servings of dark green vegetables.

Moreover, every six months there is a complete turnover in the body's protein. Consequently, it is impossible to look or feel fit, unless you take in the required amounts of protein. Calcium makes for healthy teeth and bones. You know that, of course. But do you know that a deficiency is related to nervous tension? And under tension, often causes weight-prone people to overeat? Better get with that calcium—and that protein!

You need one gram of calcium a day. You are sure to get most of it, and for the fewest calories, by taking two glasses of skim milk, four ounces of cottage cheese, one egg or one slice of bread, and two servings of dark green vegetables.

The daily requirement of protein is 70 grams. By taking the calcium foods as recommended, you automatically are supplied with about 55 percent of meat, fish or fowl. The total calorie count is 725. On the usual diet, this leaves you plenty to eat! Spare for other foods and more of the same.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

Every now and then a deal will come up in which each side can make a game in its best contract. The mixed pair contest at the recent national tournament at Seattle produced such a deal. Both the East-West pairs and the North-South pairs had a game in the major suits. Five hearts could be made by East-West, while five spades could be bid and made by North-South.

East led the king of hearts and followed with the ace, which North, the declarer, ruffed in dummy with a small trump. North now drew trumps, and when he found the three outstanding spades in the East hand he lost a trick to the queen but he made his contract.

At several of the other tables the five-heart bid by the East-West players was doubled by North-South. With three aces in their combined hands they reasoned that a five-spade contract might not be made but they could set the five-heart contract. But, this contract could not be set and East-West pairs that were allowed to play the hand in that spot received a good score.

The five spades bid by several North-South pairs (some bidding the five spades as a sacrifice) could not be beaten. Two East-West pairs went to six hearts as a sacrifice, though it is very un-

Red Cellophane Strips Hopefully Worth Steak, Wheelchair, Dog

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Everything from a steak dinner to a trained dog for the blind rests on the truth of a rumor loose in Appleton: 4 pounds of red cellophane strips from cigaret packages will win the holder a wheelchair.

The cellophane strip fad seems to have started last fall at Lawrence college when Betty Kuether, senior from Kiel, returned from her summer vacation with a project in mind.

She and her sister collected the strips while car-hopping at a Kiel drive-in.

"My sister teaches in Kingsford, Mich.," Miss Kuether explains. "They had a project going there to get a wheelchair for 4 pounds of strips, and they did get it. I sent 1½ pounds from Lawrence in November," she said. "I know they got it."

Still No Agency

Does Miss Kuether know the name of the agency that gives the wheelchairs?

Well, no. "But all you have to have is the name of a deserving person, and I know you can get a wheelchair," she said. "Deaconess hospital in Milwaukee used to do this, I think," she added.

Right now Miss Kuether has collected about 1½ more pounds of the strips. She keeps them in her room. "If they're packed loosely, a pound fills a box about 2 feet by 2 feet. I compress them, somewhat," she said.

Lawrence Sorority

It wasn't long before a Lawrence sorority got on the cellophane bandwagon. Members of Delta Gamma heard they could win a dog if they collected another 4 pounds of the strips.

Phyllis Spinner, a Chicago Delta Gamma member, says,

Kroger Says FTC Is 'Experimenting' With Trust Laws

Kroger company officials said today that a complaint by the Federal Trade Commission against the company "appears as an unwarranted experimentation with the anti-trust laws."

FTC has charged that Kroger's purchase of food stores, dating back 51 years, has been illegal. "To charge that (the purchases) are illegal, years and in most instances decades later, is completely at variance with the principles of American justice and fair play," Kroger Pres. J. B. Hall said.

"Kroger's growth always has followed lawful patterns," he said. "Certainly the Federal Trade Commission staff has known of these transactions for many years."

15th Ward Aldermanic Race Shows Importance of Vote

The importance of one vote was demonstrated again Tuesday in the Fifteenth ward.

This was the ward in which former A. J. John A. Schumacher earned a campaign for return to office with a 2-vote win over Jerome L. Hiler and a 6-vote margin over incumbent Allan W. Sankowsky.

If one Schumacher vote had gone to Hiler, the contest would have resulted in a tie.

Absentee Votes

There were seven absentee votes cast in the ward in the 4-man school board contest, but only four absentee votes in the 4-way alderman race.

Schumacher actually won the election on the absentee ballots. He received two absentee votes to one each for Hiler and Kerndt A. Luckow.

Then there's the Sankowsky situation.

Sankowsky also was a

LAWN ROLLING

½ TON POWER ROLLER

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture report in their 1958 National Lawn Building that spring rolling was one of the most important lawn care practices. And the most obvious reason is a lawn as smooth as a golf course green, even in the hard winter we have had. Make an appointment in advance to have your lawn rolled and also fertilized.

Last year we rolled over 150 lawns in the Fox Valley Area and plan to have that number this year. If therefore it is important that you call us to have a lawn rolled on a schedule you when the soil in your area is in the right condition.

All jobs priced on arrival and subject to your approval. The average cost for a 100 x 120 foot lot is only $7.50 and fertilizing $5.00 plus materials for a total of about $12.50 also.

Cool Air Moves Into Fox Cities

A mass of cool air moved into the Fox Cities area, dropping temperatures over 10 degrees below Tuesday's levels.

Tuesday's high was 61, but the temperature at 10:30 a.m. was only 38. The overnight low was 35.

The forecast for Thursday is for partly cloudy and cool weather, with temperatures in the upper 30's and low 40's. Friday's outlook is for continued cool, with some warming in the afternoon.

The flood situation in the Rockford, Ill., area seemed to be easing as the Rock river held nearly steady. But overflows from the muddy stream, surged through part of the Janesville business district. Three feet of water flowed into the basements of some downtown stores.

Outagamie Highway Commission reports the following roads blocked by water: Highway 187, about two miles north of Shiocton; County Trunk M. north of Hortonville; P in the town of Bovina; 156, near Nichols; 76, east of Bear Creek; and W in Maple Creek.

Atomic Exhibit Will be Shown At AHS Assembly

Appleton High school students will have an opportunity Thursday to get acquainted with the wonders of the atomic age at a special assembly program. The program will be "This Atomic World," a traveling atomic energy exhibit of the Atomic Energy commission.

The exhibit will be sent from the museum division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, which manages the exhibit, as well as the American museum of Atomic Energy in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

In Thursday's program at 2 p.m., a staff member of the museum division will take the audience on an excursion into the atomic age. The demonstrator will explain fundamentals of atomic energy and how it compares with other types of energy; how atomic energy is released through radiation and fission; and how atomic energy is used in agriculture, medicine and industry.

Urban Voters Give Hallows Edge in County

Stewart G. Honeck
Draws Most Support
From Rural Areas

Steadfast if not spectacular popularity with urban voters in Outagamie county Tuesday gave state supreme court Justice E. Harold Hallows a 295-vote edge in his race with Stewart G. Honeck for a seat on the state's highest court. Hallows polled 6,731 votes to 6,436 for Honeck.

The 13,000-plus vote total for Outagamie county was composed of 192 votes to 109 for his opponent. Of the 36 out-of-Appleton precincts, Honeck carried 272 votes to 94 for Honeck.

Interest was good in rural communities, where town and village offices were at stake. The Appleton vote was considered good since the only city-wide races were on the state judicial level and for board of education. Individual aldermanic and supervisor races in odd-numbered wards helped turn out the vote.

Honeck, former state attorney general, received 3,686 votes from out-of-Appleton precincts, compared with 3,424 for Hallows.

Made Up Loss

The justice, however, made up that loss in municipal balloting by polling 3,307 votes to 2,750 for Honeck. This was the difference as far as Outagamie county was concerned.

Honeck ran fairly strong in early returns from strictly rural areas. His largest margin came in the village of Hortonville, where he picked up 192 votes to 109 for his opponent. Of the 36 out-of-Appleton precincts, Honeck carried 272 votes to 94 for Honeck.

Crashes Double, Injuries Triple From Year Ago

Accidents last month were nearly twice that of last year and injuries nearly tripled, Outagamie County Police Capt. Ronald Decker reports. Last month 48 accidents involving 83 cars were investigated by county police, compared to 26 involving 40 cars a year ago. The crashes injured 32 people last month, compared to 11 in March of 1958. Two persons died on the road—an 18-year-old youth on Highway 45 and a 7-year-old child on Highway 13.

In Appleton, on the other hand, Honeck was able to carry only four wards—the Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Twentieth.

Hallows' strongest county support came in Appleton's Eighth ward, where he received 272 votes to 94 for Honeck.

Fire Truck Dilemma Solved; Headed for Reno Collector

The dilemma of what to do with the city's 42-year-old fire truck apparently was solved Monday by the public safety committee.

It was recommended by the committee that the truck be sold to Allie Mayer, 237 Idlewild street, Kaukauna, for $375, the highest informal bid.

The bid, Chairman Thomas pedestrian on County Trunk T-1, was sold to none in March of last year.

Estimated damage to the 83 cars in accidents last month was $22,550, compared to $7,950 to 40 cars a year ago.

In the 48 accidents, 26 of the drivers were under 25 years of age and 12 crashes were 1-car accidents, Decker said.

K. Schneider explained, came Monday in the mail. In it, Mayer says he is acting as agent for William Harrah, owner of the Harrah club, Reno, Nev., who collects antique vehicles.

Schneider called the bid "fortunate" in that the truck could be sold for more than $551, the earlier high bid, and still be kept off the streets where it would be a hazard.

In a committee of the whole discussion last week, the majority of aldermen seemed in favor of selling the truck to the American Legion post for $551, but some protested because of the $551 bid from Don and Kenneth Kemps.

Rural Appleton Farmer Milks Under Warmth of Heat Lamps

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Farm Editor

Did they say it couldn't be done?
A farmer who is able to milk his cows in shirtsleeves in the dead of winter?
Matt Van Handel, route 4, Appleton, is doing just that and he's added a few other refinements to make his milking chores less strenuous.

Van Handel, who installed a surge pipeline milking system last fall, decided that he'd like to try electric heating in his spanking-new milking parlor. He went to the Wisconsin Michigan Power area where Van Handel is company for advice and the working, eliminating possibility of the cows being warmed up by the lamps only to cool rapidly when they move out of the room into a cooler area.

Van Handel says that electric bill hasn't changed much since the system was installed. He figures the system costs him about eight to ten dollars per month.

Peak Valve
"With the electric system I don't have anywhere near the maintenance problems I'd have with a combustion-powered system," Van Handel says.

The value of his heating system reached its peak last winter, the farmer reports. "With the lights on I was able to do the milking in my shirtsleeves even on days when the temperature was 20 below," he said.

Like many farmers in the Fox Cities area, and throughout the nation, Van Handel believes in taking advantage of automatic equipment.

Reduces Work
His Surge milking parlor has reduced the milking workload to an all-time low. Its gotten to the point where his 13-year-old daughter can handle the whole chore of milking the 44-cow herd by herself.

Van Handel's opinion of his milking parlor setup was best expressed this way: "I'd a lot rather milk 75 cows this way than the 30 the old way."

12 Gilts Available to 4-H Members

Chilton — Twelve gilts will be available some time in May for Calumet county 4-H members interested in special pig projects, Lowell Pierce, club agent has announced.

Members interested in the swine project may apply at the county extension office or to one of the members of the swine committee. These include: Glenn Hacker, route 1, Brillmont; Roy Wenzel, route 1, Brillmont; Donald Ott, route 1, Brillmont; and Carl Peik, route 4, Chilton.

Tonight at 8 p. m. there will be a special meeting of the swine committee, boys who have had the pig project last year and their fathers, and Fred Giesler, livestock specialist from the University of Wisconsin, will also be present.

Purpose of the meeting will be to answer questions on special problems in swine raising, evaluate the special project program, and discuss ideas for program improvement.

Truman Torgerson, Manitowish state June dairy month chairman, challenged the group to enlist the cooperation of all the people in the state and exceed the 1955 sales mark. In that year, the first under the revised June dairy month program, an estimated 21 million extra pounds of milk were moved through reg-

State Requires Fire Permits

Papers Can be Had From Forest
Rangers, Wardens

Waupaca — Burning permits will again be required beginning Friday in District 11, according to Gordon Landphier, district forest ranger. The district includes Waupaca, Waushara, Portage, Marquette and Green Lake counties. Regulations require that burning permits must be obtained before setting any fire outside the limits of cities and villages, except those used for warming a person or cooking food.

The permits are obtainable from any forest ranger or emergency fire wardens. Failure to obtain a permit before burning may result in arrest and a fine of from $10 to $50 or imprisonment of from 10 to 30 days.

Worst on Record
According to Landphier, the 1958 fire season was the worst on record in District 11. There were 377 reportable forest fires which burned over 6,427 acres. Dry weather kept woods a constant hazard. Debris burning was the largest single fire cause. Because the burning of household trash was a high cause, Landphier says precautions should be taken. Closed trash burners be used. Landphier says precautions can save many woodlots. Over 95 per cent of forest fires in Wisconsin are due to carelessness of people and over 65 per cent are the result of failure to take simple preventive steps.

Best on rough roads where Nylon's famed flexing strength cuts road shock and rupture damage. Steel-like Nylon is stronger than any other cord.

Longer wearing because Nylon is not affected by moisture entry. With Nylon cord body, the strength of the carcass is retained even if cuts occur in the tread.

Safe at high speeds because Nylon's high heat resistance and rapid cooling qualities prevent dangerous heat buildup. Gives extra protection on rough side roads.

Easier, smoother driving as Nylon smoothes road shocks, cuts driving tension. Nylon flexes easily, losing none of its strength to prevent ruptures of the tire from hard jolts.

Swine Breeders Discuss Ways to Better Stock

Feeder Pig Co-op Talks Over Possible Boar Testing Station

Chilton — Purebred swine breeders of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Cooperative met at the Calumet county courthouse, Monday afternoon, to consider ways to bring better breeding stock into the north-eastern Wisconsin area.

Over 40 purebred swine men, representing 10 counties in the area, attended the session.

Working on the principle that improved blood lines will build up breeds for better returns in production, the members discussed ways in which the feeder pig program might be improved.

Boar Station

Under consideration was possible establishment of a boar-testing station in the area. Testing of litter-mates under varied feeding conditions for best meat production was done in the southern section of the state last year. No boar-testing stations are now in operation in Wisconsin, according to Carl J. Peik, president of the co-op.

The need for more emphasis on certification of breeding stock was stressed. Peik estimates that not more than two or three co-op members have had their stock certified.

Whether or not there is enough superior breeding stock in the area to meet the potential demand presented a question which can be answered only after a survey is made of present and upcoming swine census. It was agreed.

Chief Problem

Chief among the problems, however, is how to get the improved breeding stock to association members, if it is available.

Annual purebred swine sales have been scheduled in the past, possibly two in the entire area. One is to be held in Cannon May 9. Another will be held in the north or west section of the area later in the season.

Possibility of increasing the number of sales to bi-monthly events at various points in the area received some consideration.

Price Problem

Most controversial aspect of the whole "better breeding stock" program is price, according to Peik. Since purebred stock commands more money than grade swine, it is difficult to establish a price that is agreeable to both the purchaser and the seller.

The Calumet county purebred swine organization has the largest membership of any of the counties in the area.

No definite action was taken on any of the proposed measures.

Outcome of the planning program will be turned over to the board of directors of the cooperative. Norbert Brandt, production manager and Norval Dvorak, general manager.

Gasch was first elected to the Badger Breeders board in 1951. He served for six years, rising to the presidency. Two years ago he retired from the board because a director cannot succeed himself after six years in office.

Eligible again this year, Gasch was once more elected to the cooperative board.

British Policy Affected by News Reports

AP Dispatch Brings
Out Differences
Between Countries

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — What kind of "iron curtain" is there between Britain and the United States? Do the British correspondents stationed in this country send back home an objective story of what's been happening in the American government — or, if they do, is it possible that certain British newspapers ignore the facts and are unaware that they are breeding ill feeling between the two countries?

These questions are important for the British and American governments to work together nowadays lest there be an enlargement of the already sizable section of public opinion in America which believes that foreign aid is superfluous and that mutual security is merely an excuse for pouring out American billions.

The latest example of a serious misunderstanding was reported widely last Saturday when the Associated Press distributed throughout this country a dispatch which said in part:

Generals Talkative?
"Do American generals talk too much?" A British newspaper claims they do and thus imperil the world's hopes for peace.

Britain's largest daily, the tabloid Daily Mirror which leans toward Labor party (socialist) views devoted its entire front page to an editorial attack on "meddling American generals."

Not Informed
Is it possible that the British people were not informed previously by their correspondents in New York and Washington that the Eisenhower administration had been accused week after week by prominent Democrats in congress of letting the Soviet Union get ahead of us including charges that the missile gap is dangerous?

Have the newsmen from Britain told their editors and the British public that this barrage had to be answered publicly and that convincing or reassuring words could come only from the military chiefs in the American government?

Faithful Reports
American newsmen in London have reported faithfully to the American people that Prime Minister Macmillan has had to touch on many forces in his debates in the House of Commons that seem unfortunate from an American standpoint—such as turning out of allied troops and disengagement. But it doesn't result in front-page editorials denouncing him for talking too much.

There are differences of opinion expressed in the press here and some concern that the British are a bit narrow in their conservative counterpoint. Chamberlain may drag America into another world war through the means of appeasement. But certainly there is no object or voice to the fullest expression of views by British officials and the press.

Economic Aid
Has the British government been told by the American people that America is a big spender in aid even when the London aid plan was a long time in coming? Is it not a fact that the country that has the most seas and the largest navy is the poorest of the United States?

Why should the scope of our help to Britain be antagonized? American opinion can be created by creating doubts as to whether the aid would be available for use in an emergency? Only if the American retaliatory blows are stuck from Britain's view from other bases in Europe thus reducing the value of intercontinental missiles to the Soviets.

To cry out that the American generals talk too much is misdirected criticism. Rather it should be directed to all those politicians who not only talk too much but who, when they see a political advantage to be gained, actually appease too much and thus pave the way for an enemy to miscalculate on the west's being too weak or too scared to resist—the very way that world wars in the past have been provoked.

Each Major League Pilot Claims His Club Has Been Improved

Stengel, Haney Say Flatly Their Teams Will Win; 3 Declare They Could Do It

BY JOE REICHLER
New York — P— Unbounded optimism was the keynote today as the 16 major league managers, to a man, hailed their clubs as "greatly improved" on the eve of the opening of the season.

Two of them — defending champions Casey Stengel of New York and Fred Haney of Milwaukee — stated flatly their teams should win again. Bill Rigney of San Francisco, Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh and Al Lopez of Chicago's White Sox, said their teams "could" win the pennant.

Harry Craft of Kansas City and Cookie Lavagetto of Washington boldly predicted their teams would win more games than they did in 1958. Paul Richards called his Orioles the best club that has represented Baltimore since its reentry into the majors in 1954.

Casey Has 2 Teams
The most succinct comment was made by Stengel, who will be trying to nail down his fifth consecutive championship, and tenth in 11 years with the Yankees.

"I've got the American league by the tail," he said. "I can throw two teams at 'em if I have to. That is, I can play a right-handed and a left-handed team."

Haney's comment was equally definitive. "We've got the best players, the best pitching," he said. "We've got the experience and the confidence. I see no reason why we can't win again."

Stengel's appraisal of the rest of the American league notwithstanding, the seven other AL managers agreed the race will be closer this year.

"The Red Sox are an improved club this spring," said Boston manager Mike Higgin. "I know the Yankees still have to be beaten. I think they can be beaten. They are only human."

Close All The Way
"The Red Sox might do it. It looks like a great race from first to sixth. It will be close all the way."

Lopez, Chicago: "The Yankees are still the team to beat, but I believe the White Sox have to be considered a chance to win the pennant."

Joe Gordon, Cleveland: "I honestly feel the Indians have improved quite a bit. How we do in the pennant race depends on how many of the players have a good year. The club is faster, has a better bench and better spirit."

Bill Norman, Detroit: "I know we've improved our pitching and we've helped our infield because of the trades for Ray Narleski, Don Mossi, Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges."

Harry Craft, Kansas City: "I think the Athletics will be a better ball club. Our aim is to reach the 500 mark."

Lavagetto, Washington: "I think the Senators will win 60 games this year. We have a good potential."

Richards, Baltimore: "We have added a great deal of punch to the infield with the addition of Billy Klaus, Chico Carrasquel and the improvement of Billy Gardner. Our pitching should be among the best in the league."

The feeling among the National league managers is that no club is going to run away with the race. Rigney, whose Giants finished a surprising third last year, thought his team could win "if everything clicks."

"Our strength is going to be in the fact that we'll be able to score no matter who we use in our lineup," he said. Murtaugh, Pittsburgh: "I think this team will win a pennant but I can't say if it will be this year. I know we have a good team."

Mayo Smith, Cincinnati: "If the pitching is as good as it looked the final two weeks of training, we'll be tough. Yes, real tough."

Solly Hemus, St. Louis: "We showed sparks in training of being a real good club. Our youngsters hold the key."

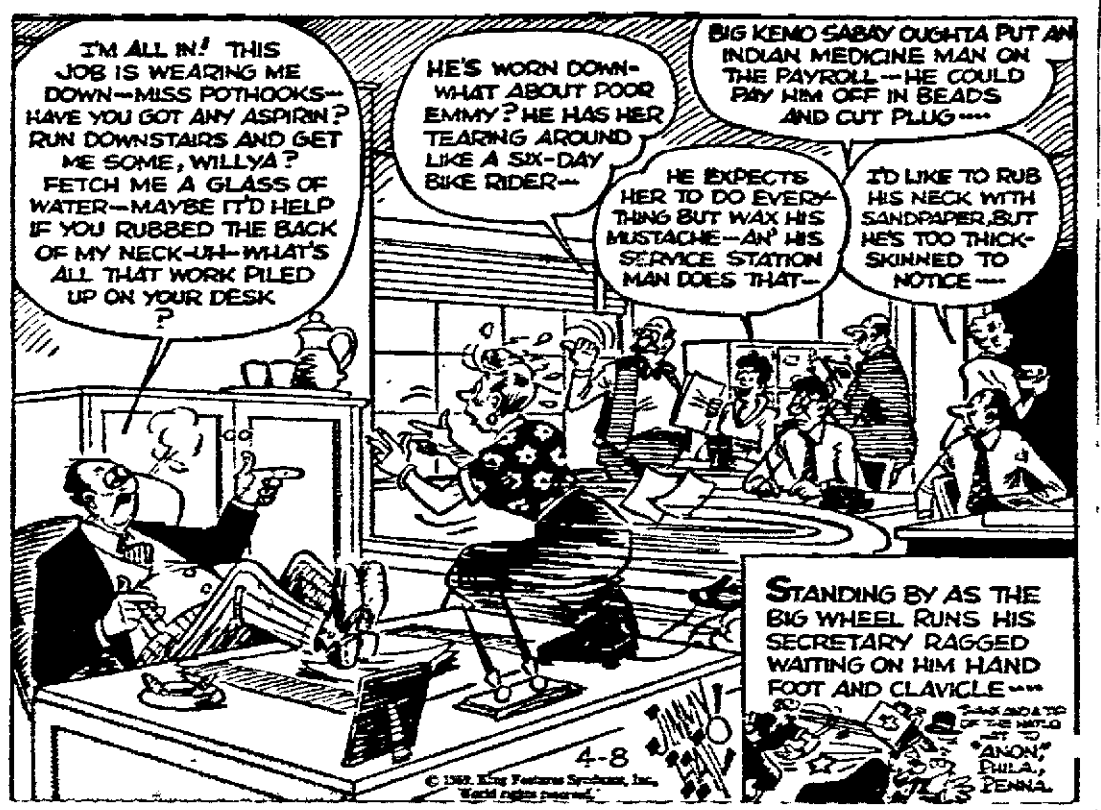

Walton Alston, Los Angeles: "I've got to think we're better than the seventh place club we were last year. I can't help but feel it is greatly improved."

Bob Scheffing of Chicago: "We won 10 games more last year than in 1957. We'll win more games this year."

Eddie Sawyer, Philadelphia: "We could make the first division."

Substitute Backs Veteran Referee For Quitting NHL After Criticism

Boston — P— The National Hockey league was minus its senior referee and had another unhappy arbiter still on the payroll today with Montreal and Toronto set to meet for the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's championship.

"Red" Storey, who has spent nine years as a whistle-blower in the rugged league quit Tuesday because of criticism from NHL brass. Storey walked out shortly before the Toronto - Boston playoff and was replaced by Eddie Powers.

Several hours after Toronto edged the Bruins, 3-2, to gain the championship series against Montreal, Powers backed Storey to the hilt.

Behind Him
"I'm 100 per cent behind 'Red,'" Powers told The Associated Press. "'Red' is 100 per cent right in this deal. The front office has not backed up the officials this year."

Storey, unnerved by criticism of his officiating in last Saturday's Montreal - Chicago playoff game, resigned Montreal when the score was deadlocked at 4-4.

"I'm sick," Storey said. "No penalty was called. This thing is like a 3-ring circus and the officials are being made the clowns."

Storey Refuses
HNL President Clarence Campbell was quoted by an Ottawa writer as saying that Campbell called Storey "a Storey 'froze' as Montreal good referee" and expressed edged Chicago, 5-4, on a goal he had resigned.

Powers is expected to get the opening assignment for the Toronto-Montreal (best-of-seven) series starting Thursday on the Canadiens' legged tripping infractions by home ice.

Team of Destiny?
Toronto Nips Bruins, Gains Final Playoffs

Boston — P— Toronto's deadline kids, bent on becoming a team of destiny, confidently eyed powerful Montreal today for a showdown for hockey's coveted Stanley cup in the first all-Canadian championship playoff since 1951.

"We're going to win the whole thing," said Coach "Punch" Imlach. The Maple Leafs capped a tremendous drive by edging the Boston Bruins, 3-2, Tuesday night to capture their semi-final series which went the limit of seven games.

Imlach, who became general manager of Toronto a year ago, assumed a dual role as coach in mid-season when the Leafs were the National Hockey league doormat. Under his guidance, the club finally found itself and sneaked into the playoffs on the last day of the regular season.

Tuesday night, rookie Gerry Ehman provided the series-clinching goal at 17:27 of the final period.

The Leafs will meet Montreal on the Canadiens' home ice in their best-of-7 series opener Thursday.

Five Fox Cities players helped the Pulaski State bank basketball team to finish second in the 16-team Green Bay YMCA invitational basketball tournament last weekend.

Playing for Pulaski were Jerry Hoffensperger, Kaukauna High coach, brothers Jerry and Jack Lamers, of Kimberly; Jim De Decker, Appleton, and Dick Verbeten, Kimberly.

Pulaski beat the Kewaunee Chiefs, Green Bay Reliance Printers and the Eau Claire club before losing, 101-89, to the Barber drugs of Milwaukee in the finals.

Supreme Court Ruling
State Golfers Need Not Call 'Fore' if Fairway Ahead Clear

Madison — P— The Wisconsin supreme court held Tuesday that a golfer is not obligated to call a warning "Fore," before hitting his tee shot if his immediate fairway is clear.

The court affirmed a Wood County circuit court decision which found Joe Richards' drive struck Rasmussen on the head as he walked toward the fourth tee.

Rasmussen's partner ducked when he heard Richards' warning, "Fore." But Rasmussen contended he didn't have time to get out of the way of the ball and that Richards should have shouted before swinging.

In its ruling the court noted that Rasmussen was hit on the head by a golf ball as he walked toward the fourth tee. Rasmussen filed a $20,000 claim against Richards. The incident occurred almost three years ago on the Trism course in Wisconsin.

Celtics Snare 3-0 Lead in Playoff Finals

Tumble Lakers, 123-110; Cousy, Russell Sparkle

St. Paul, Minn. — P— The Boston Celtics, perhaps the greatest basketball team ever assembled, were on the threshold today of a precedent-breaking sweep of the National Basketball association title playoffs.

The Celtics whipped the Minneapolis Lakers, 123-110 here Tuesday night for their third straight victory. A repeat in Minneapolis Thursday night would make Boston the first team in the NBA's 9-year history to win the championship series in four straight.

"Why be modest about it?" smiled Celtic Coach Red Auerbach. "This is a great team."

He got no argument on that from the Lakers after the Celtics' breath-taking show of power Tuesday night.

Glory for All
There was glory in it for all of the Celtic reprobates but especially Bill Sharman, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell.

Sharman, the 32-year-old mechanical man, flicked six foul shots in as many tries and thus ran his consecutive free throw mark to 56, breaking the NBA record of 55 Bill set three years ago.

Sharman started the string in the first game of the Eastern division playoffs against Syracuse and hasn't missed since.

Cousy, once more was the whirlwind playmaker, steering the Celtics fast break with spectacular dribbling, passing and headwork. And he found time to bag 23 points, games.

Bakken Ailing 89 Report for 1st UW Spring Football Drill

Madison — P— Eighty-nine players, several more than anticipated earlier, reported for the first spring football workout at the University of Wisconsin Tuesday.

Coach Milt Bruhn and his aides directed a long session on fundamentals, including some tackling.

Several Overweight
Missing the workout was Jim Bakken of Madison, a quarterback prospect who has a lame shoulder.

Spring drills will last five weeks. The annual alumni game is booked for May 9.

Bruhn said he was pleased with the initial endeavor and expressed the view his squad was fairly well conditioned except for a couple of candidates who are overweight.

"We had a real good workout," the coach said, even though the session was devoted mainly to conditioning work.

Dale Hackbart, another Madison quarterback, was missing because he is a member of the Badger basketball team.

Lowell Jenkins, first string tackle from Racine, reported at 252 pounds, at least 20 more than he should weigh. Barry Armstrong, freshman tackle from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., weighed in at 254. His normal weight should be 235.

Bruhn said he thought Bakken would need at least a week of easy drills before he could start using his throwing arm.

Averill Probably To Start at 3rd In Cubs' Opener
Houston, Tex. — P— Earl

Averill J., son of the one-time outfielder, will probably start at third base when the Chicago Cubs open the season against Los Angeles Friday.

Averill hit two home runs in Tuesday's 8-7 victory in 11 innings over Boston. The two blasts lifted his spring total to seven, tops on the team that led the majors with 182 homers last year.

If Averill starts, he'll reunite the team that was good enough to place veteran Alvin Dark who won 52 of 72 regular season games had trouble getting his legs in shape.

Armstead Is Favored Over Eddie Perkins

Chicago — P— Eddie Perkins of Chicago and Paule Armstead of Los Angeles, a pair of young lightweights hoping to earn a shot at champion Joe Brown, clash tonight in Chicago stadium.

The 10-round will be nationally televised by ABC, 9 p.m. CST.

Armstead, with 12 knockouts to his credit, is a 2-1 favorite. The odds on Perkins, on his upset victory over Philadelphia's Len Vachon last January in Hollywood, Calif.

Perkins, who won 40 of 49 amateur bouts, has a 13-5 pro record including four stopouts.

Armstead, who has been inactive since the Vachon fight to let a cut eye heal, has a 24-4-1 mark.

Potteiger, a native of Pottstown, about 30 miles from here, had been living in Philadelphia with relatives.

He is survived by his widow, Ethel, from whom he was separated, and a daughter.

Giants' Horace Stoneham Has Trouble Restraining Optimism

San Francisco — P— President Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants, looking forward to Friday's opening game with unhidden anticipation, declared:

"Certainly we're shooting for the pennant. We've been shooting for it since last fall. Most of the clubs in our league have added strength, but I think we improved ours more than the other seven."

The Giants, who finished a surprising third in their first National league campaign, open in St. Louis and then come West for their first home game April 14 against the Chicago Cubs. That's been a sellout since tickets became available.

"It may be strange to say, but our ticket requests this year are greater than last year," Stoneham commented. "And we were very happy with attendance in 1958. We should draw 1,300,000 even if we stay in Seals stadium."

Last season in the park with a capacity of only about 23,000, the Giants had 1,272,625 fans.

Heled in a practice run several weeks ago.

A scheduled Fourth of July 300-mile race for Indianapolis was canceled. In its place will be a 250-mile stock car race for late model sedans and convertibles.

Jeanne Kloes' 245 Is Top Line Of Appleton Women's Year

5-by-8 League Bowler Finishes With 572 Tally

On the last night of Five-by-Eight league bowling at Hahn's Tuesday evening Jeanne Kloes smashed the season's top game by an Appleton feminine kegler.

Her 245 line was part of a 572 series for Subway Bar. The set tied one by Mary Lietz in Hahn's Women's league Sept. 11 as sixth best of the season.

Ranch bar (54-30) won the circuit crown by one game over Howie's bar.

Milly Kositzke of the Carpet Shop and Janice Winkler, AAL No. 2, dumped co-leading 508 aggregates in the Ten Pin Toppers wheel at Hahn's. Janice Winkler took game honors with her 197.

Advance Car Mover (53-28) holds a 4-game league lead. Another Five-by-Eight game was a 224 by Jane Van Zummeran which ties for tenth best of the season. She finished with a 525. Other leading tallies in that loop: "Butch" Helser 213, 542; "Shirley" Rasmussen 208, 545; Shirley Schultz 193, 501.

In the Ten Pin wheel, Judy Kositzke blasted a 209.

delphia in a pair of night openers.

A heavy front line pitchers got in their final warm-ups in Tuesday's exhibitions. Left-hander Johnny Antonelli, who'll open for the Giants, pitched a scoreless three innings and gave way to Mike McCormick, who continued the shutout string until Cleveland unloaded three runs with two out in the ninth for a 3-2 victory at Des Moines.

Brooks Lawrence and Hal Jeffcoat kept the Yankees in check as the Reds beat the champs, 3-2, on Gus Bell's tenth inning home run at Savannah. Moe Drabowsky returned from the injured list and pitched nine innings for the Chicago Cubs, but Morrie Martin got the decision when the Bruins scored twice in the eleventh for an 8-7 victory over the Red Sox at Victoria, Tex.

The exhibition tour reached a major league park at Baltimore and the Orioles beat the Phillies, 5-3, scoring all their runs in the first inning off Ruben Gomez, who gave up a grand-slam to Gus Triandos.

Barry Latman and Bob Shaw were touched for 15 hits, but breezed as the Chicago White Sox walloped Nashville, 20-10, in the Southern association club's park.

Folley Beats Besmanoff

Cops Unanimous Decision in Denver Bout

Denver — F — Third-ranked heavyweight Zora Folley is looking overseas for his next opponent after dusting off Willi Besmanoff in a 10-round Tuesday night.

Manager Bill Swift said today he now wants Folley to meet Britain's Henry Cooper, who defeated the Chandler, Ariz., stylist last October.

In the National Boxing association ring, Folley is tied immediately behind Cooper, second-ranked to No. 1 challenger Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Folley won a unanimous decision over Besmanoff, a German-born boxer from the two judges Milwaukee baker, answered and referee.

Tigers Seen as New York's Top Challengers in '59 Race

rather than just a partial season as in '58. And who knows to what heights Bob Hartman might rise? Many of the Braves' other key men—Hank Aaron, Del Crandall, Covington and Eddie Mathews—are young, either at their peaks or still climbing toward them.

I look for the most serious challenge to come from the Giants—a team of fine young talent and a team which helped itself considerably over the winter. With Sam Jones and Jack Sanford peeling up the pitching staff, the Giants could take it all if the Braves take too long to get squared away or run into unforeseen individual slumps or injuries.

The young, defensively-strong Pirates also should be in the race all the way. I peg them a notch lower than their surprising '58 finish because they may be unable to compensate for the loss of Frank Thomas' power, and the league as a whole looks stronger.

Tigers, Chisox Top Challengers for Yanks

One of the clubs that looks like a cinch to do better is Los Angeles. It's virtually with a coin flip that I give the Dodgers the edge over Cincy for a first-division berth. Moving pains and assorted other miseries contributed to the Dodgers' off-year in '58. But, now, their pitching looks pretty solid again, and their attack, with a healthier Duke Snider around to pace it, should be better. Add an improved Cincy "9," and you have what amounts to a 5-team race. The Reds have enough power for a potential flag winner, but their hurling remains their short suit. Ditto for the homer-hitting Cubs. Chicago's batters will give higher-rated clubs lots of grief, but its pitching will be marked by the inconsistency inherent in a young staff. While the Cards and the Phils won't be weaklings by any means, they don't seem to have as many horses as the six other clubs.

Unless Bill Skowron's injury is more serious than expected, the Yanks will again weigh in with strength at all starting positions and—what's highly significant—on the bench. New York has the power, pitching, versatility and poise which will prove too much for, in order, Detroit, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and Kansas City.

It's probable—and certainly desirable from an attendance standpoint—that the Yanks won't wrap it up in the first half of the season as they did in '58. Detroit, and probably Chicago, too, could press the Yanks and with the right combination of breaks could even spill the Gotham goliaths. The Tigers have neither the pitching of the Chisox nor the power of the Bosox but appear to have a better balanced club than either of the others to make a serious run of it. This corner has picked the flag winners correctly in both leagues for the last two years. We, however, failed to peg either runnerup last year—our picks, the Cards and the Red Sox, fell short of the mark.

Switch of Title Bout Touches Off Rhubarb

NBC's Gallery Annoyed at Rhodes, D'Amato

New York — P — Promoter Cecil Rhodes, Jr., and his entourage met with network officials today to iron out differences that have arisen over switching the Floyd Patterson-Brian London heavyweight championship fight from Las Vegas to Indianapolis.

All was not sweetness and light between the parties. The network was annoyed at Rhodes and Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, for the sudden change in sites of the May 1 bout.

No New Contracts "We've agreed on terms," said Tom Gallery, NBC's sports director. "But we haven't signed any new contracts yet. We'd better settle the whole thing today or it will blow up."

"What gets us is that the contract we signed with the promoter, manager and fighter says the bout is to be held in Las Vegas. We don't think you should walk out on a contract."

"Furthermore, D'Amato has no idea of the television business. For instance, we are blacking out the area of the fight. In Las Vegas, that would mean somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 sets. But there must be at least 400,000 sets around Indianapolis."

"D'Amato thinks that anytime someone doesn't jump for him, he's being double-crossed."

Takes It Calmly Rhodes was taking the whole thing calmly. He said the NBC had asked him to take a $25,000 cut in the original $225,000 TV fee.

"That will be straightened out," he said.

Rhodes and D'Amato decided on the switch because they said they feared Las Vegas gamblers might become involved. The Las Vegas sponsors denied this, saying the real reason for the switch was that they refused to put up any money for the promoters.

"As soon as we get all the details straightened out, we're going to send for London," Rhodes said.

That will please London. He says he has his bags packed and is just waiting for a trans-Atlantic call. He doesn't care where the fight is held, he added.

Patterson? The arguments couldn't interest him less. He's working out and basking in the New Jersey sun.

Regents' Approval No Longer Needed for Faculty Testimony

Madison — P — The board of state college regents voted Tuesday to repeal one of its by-laws which prohibited a state college faculty member from appearing before legislative committees unless the board approved.

The regents explained they were not aware of the restriction and wanted to remove it so there would be no question about faculty rights to speak before legislative groups.

In another action the board lord Nelson a recent action of the state building commission which shifted building priorities previously approved by the board. This involved a building at River Falls State college.

The regents delayed action on an offer from Leon Clausen, Racine, to donate land he owns near Platteville, to the regents for use as a park. Platteville is the location of one of the state colleges. The board said it wanted to clarify restrictions on the property involving a road and well site.

Little Rock, Ark.—U.S. Gov. Orval Faibus, who closed Little Rock's four high schools against integration, says he would like to see them open immediately on some basis acceptable to opposing factions in the desegregation dispute.

But he called such a development "possible but not probable."

He indicated Monday he might be willing to accept some integration to get the schools operating again. They were closed by his proclamation last September.

Faibus saw little hope of an agreement in the controversy, but said it was "possible that all could reach an understanding. He presumably meant those forces seeking school integration and those against it.

The governor blamed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for failure to realize that the school deadlock cannot be settled without a compromise.

Faibus said he could open the schools simply by setting aside the proclamation that closed them.

New Serum To be Used On Insects

Boston —? Scientists are launching biological warfare—spreading a disease to kill or sicken the enemy.

The enemy is some costly insects, not human beings.

A new biological warfare weapon aimed at insects was described today to the American Chemical Society by Ros-tisher of Bioform corporation, Wasco, Calif., and Lawrence Rosner of Rosner-Hix-on laboratories, Chicago.

This insect-killer is made of living spores from germs known as Bacillus Thuringiensis. It's designed to give leaf-eating insects a quick, fatal disease if they eat enough of the spores sprayed on plant leaves.

Fisher and Rosner said the insecticide had passed tests showing it is not harmful to toxic to humans, other animals, and plants.

The insecticide now is being tested against some insects damaging a number of plants, including alfalfa, cabbages, celery, cotton, peas, beans, corn, tomatoes and tobacco.

In another report, two Indianapolis chemists described a new fast-acting anesthetic, methohexital, which they said would be most valuable during brief operations.

It produces quick, brief anesthesia, said Dr. Robert E. McMahon and Wilbur J. Doran of Lilly Research Laboratories.
